The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons eleven years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or those only generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The association was founded in 1891, and has over 30,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $17.00 to cover admittance fee and the first year's dues. Succeeding annual dues are $12.00. Non-member subscriptions, $12.00 per year. Single copy, $1.25. For application blanks or other information, write to Executive Director, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888. It consists of 224 pages or more in each number with subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. Authors of unsolicited manuscripts are referred to the journal's "Information for Authors" (July, 1975).

Newly Discovered 1792 Washington Pattern Coins

Overstruck 1792 pattern Washington silver half dollar.

Two hitherto unknown specimens of the Getz 1792 U.S. Pattern Washington silver half dollar changed hands this past June, as did three other important Washington pieces bearing the same date. The existence of the latter trio has been long known, but for all practical purposes forgotten. One of the recently unearthed Getz Washington half dollars has a lettered edge, being struck over a British halfcrown. The other is the second known specimen with twin olive leaves upon the edge, similar to that seen on the 1776 Continental dollars of apparent official origin, and to that on the silver 1783 Nova Constellatio patterns of better established official origin. Although the other three 1792 Washington pieces can be traced to early U.S. auction sale catalogue listings, two of them have not, to my knowledge, been in numismatic circulation before in this century.

Unpublished Getz 1792 Washington Half Dollar with Lettered Edge

The illustrated Washington pattern, the dies listed in Crosby[1] on pages 357-58, Figure 100, Plate X, No. 8, and by W. S. Baker[2] as his No. 24, was described as having an "ornamented edge" when initially discussed on the trans-Atlantic telephone. Surprisingly, the ornamentation turned out to be raised lettering when the piece was first looked at upon its arrival back to the United States at New York's JFK International Airport. Further study quickly suggested that the Getz dies had been struck over a British halfcrown, as the edge lettering resembled that used on many of the larger British milled denominations. Although most of the undertype was obliterated, it was first thought to be a George II coin of the type coined from 1731 to 1751, since the Roman numeral II was faintly discernible centered above our first President's head. However, subsequent study, undertaken after the piece was purchased, revealed otherwise. Since the edge lettering was almost uniformly visible around the circumference of the overstrike, even if most of the surface numerals, letters, and devices were not, it was believed that disclosure of the Edge Year would reveal or confirm the type and exact date of the British coin. After some difficulty, primarily because of unfamiliarity, the critical edge words were made out: DECUS • ET • TUTAMEN • ANNO • REGNI • TRICESIMO • PRIMO • + + • Consultation with friend Jim Risk, of Stack's Coin Galleries in New York City, ascertained that the halfcrown was one of Charles II and not George II, and that its date was 1679.

The weight of this unique discovery is exactly 218.4 grains, compared to a standard 218 grains for the British halfcrown. The strike resulted in a very broad piece as our Figure 1 shows, apparently the result of the coin having been struck under considerable pressure without the confining restraints of a collar. Both the size and weight of this specimen resemble those of the ornamented edge variety, which has a design of circles and squares similar in style to that found on the U.S. Dollar of 1794-1803. It could be graded as a full Extremely Fine, or possibly a little better EF-40+; although obviously cleaned, traces of the original lustre can still be located upon the reverse. Careful examination reveals numerous, mainly short pinpoint scratches, most of which are about the reverse periphery. Evidently, this silver overstrike laid face up in a felt lined cabinet drawer for a great many years, undoubtedly in an institution, and crude attempts were recently made to remove some of the encrusted reverse oxidation.

The importance of this major Washington rarity and one of a kind U.S. pattern of 1792 cannot be overemphasized. According to the prior owners, it allegedly spent several decades in a prominent European museum, and has no known prior pedigree. In discussing the coin with specialists Walter Breem, Dick Picker, and Don Taxay, none of us could recall any reference, either in the literature or our experience, to an overstruck Getz 1792 Washington half dollar, except to the vague reference concerning one struck over a French ecu, listed in an A. B. Sage sale of 1859. A lettered edge piece, struck over a British halfcrown, was certainly unknown to us. A few days following our conversations, while sorting some obscure numismatic pamphlets (in a continuing effort to sort and pack for eventual relocation in Arizona), I discovered what might well be a clue to the past history of this particular unique specimen. In a torn green booklet dated 1865 describing the proceedings of the Manchester Numismatic Society, Manchester, England, I noted that at the general meeting of Oct. 20, 1864, Charles Clay, M.D., the Society's President, exhibited nineteen important American coins.[3] Among these was a "Washington half dollar, 1792, struck on an English crown." This could well be the same example, the word "crown" being an error on the part of the secretary of the organization.

Second Known Getz 1792 Washington Half Dollar with Twin Olive Leaves on Edge

Leaved edge 1792 pattern Washington silver half dollar.

Until June 5, 1975, when the illustrated coin appeared in a group of Washington items at a Western coin show, it was long believed that only a single specimen existed of the Getz Washington half dollar with the twin olive leaf device on the edge, a device like that seen on other Early American pattern issues. George Fuld, while misdescribing the edge device as "vine and bars," called it unique[4], as did Don Taxay in his listing of United States Mint Essays 1791-92, struck prior to regular Mint operations, where he numbered it 8-C.[5]

This second known example of the Getz pattern with leaved edge is also classified under Baker 24, being from identical dies to that first described in this article. With a weight of 248.75 grains, it has the distinction of being the heaviest silver half dollar recorded. The coin's planchet is broad, almost as much so as that of the last, and relatively thick. The piece has, unfortunately, been rather sloppily plugged above Washington's head, but it shows an evenly struck, bold, not unattractive reverse. The obverse appears quite weak in comparison, and its fields display several obvious scratches. Excluding the plug, this rarity could be fairly graded as VG-8 / Fine-12; obv. scratched.

Until the startling appearance of this second example, the only known specimen was the A. C. Zabriskie piece, which appeared as lot #109 in the 1909 sale of that collection.[6] The superior Zabriskie coin, which was never holed, was purchased on the floor by collector Carl Wurtzbach. Later, the Wurtzbach collection containing the then unique Getz half dollar was sold to Chicago collector Virgil Brand. After Brand died in 1926, the piece became involved in his colossal numismatic estate, where it remained until 1953. In that year, the Brand-Wurtzbach collection was acquired by the New Netherlands Coin Co. of New York City. As a then principal of the New Netherlands firm, I traded the Zabriskie specimen with twin olive leaves to collector-dealer Wayte Raymond. After Mr. Raymond's untimely passing in 1956, New Netherlands Coin Co. was privileged to handle his estate, and the highly valued half dollar was sold to F. C. C. Boyd, of Ringoes, New Jersey, a great and enthusiastic collector. Following Fred Boyd's death in 1958, New Netherlands also handled his estate, and some years thereafter the Zabriskie coin found its way into my collection. Unhappily, the present plugged example lacks a comparable detailed history, but its owner of nearly a century ago has almost been positively identified, and will be revealed together with the name of the most recent purchaser, further along in this article.

The Ten Eyck Getz 1792 Washington Half Dollar with Plain Edge

Regular issue 1792 pattern Washington half dollar with plain edge.

A third Getz silver pattern became available on the market this past June, and quickly found a new home. This particular Baker 24, unlike the other two coins that appeared at about the same time, was of the plain edge variety, considered to be the closest thing to a regular issue of the Getz half dollars. Like all but one or two of its ten or eleven brothers with an uninscribed edge, the specimen here illustrated in Figure 3 is struck upon a small, rather constricted, somewhat thick flan. Its weight of 232.55 grains makes it one of the heaviest Getz silver patterns, as recorded weights of the other known examples range from 193 grains to the fantastic 248.75 grains of the specimen last described. In comparison, the Ely-Jackman piece, which was privately sold last year and is one of possibly two Getz silver half dollars with plain edge struck upon a thin, broad planchet, weighs but 204 grains.

This specimen has been labeled the Ten Eyck half dollar out of respect for its most illustrious owner. James Ten Eyck was a direct descendant of early Dutch settlers, and a life long resident of Albany, New York. He was born in that city in 1840, and died there in 1910. Ten Eyck was devoted to the coinage of the United States, and put together a formidable array of American colonial rarities, among which were a 1714 Dawson (Gloucester Court House) shilling, the 1774 Virginia shilling, a Washington Confederatio cent of 1785, the 1785 Inimica · Tyrannis Americana-Confederatio cent, a 1786 New Jersey cent with date under plow beam, one of the famous 1787 Brasher "doubloons," and, of course, this Getz 1792 pattern Washington half dollar. As president of the Albany Institute Historical and Art Society, James Ten Eyck allegedly had a fascination for historical association and the significance of trival bits of history. It has been said that his specimen of our country's first half dollar was of additional interest to him because the date "June 1806" was lightly scratched in and part of related minor graffiti located almost entirely in the coin's left obverse field. While the importance of the scratching, which is certainly diagnostic, cannot be vouched for, it can be said with certainty that the reverse of the Ten Eyck piece is remarkably clean. Conservatively, it might be graded Fine-15+, or almost but not quite, VF-20.

This coin initially appeared in W. E. Woodward's 95th Auction Sale, held by Bangs & Co. in New York City, May 21-25, 1888. There it was described as lot #1165 and called "Very Fine." It was allegedly from the G. M. Klein ("Vicksburg Cabinet") collection. In the catalogue, Woodward also claimed that the coin originally cost $100, but it realized only $64 in the sale. Probably, Ten Eyck purchased the piece at that time, although a named copy of the catalogue has not been located for confirmation. Subsequently, it was offered as lot #838 in B. Max Mehl's celebrated mail bid offering of the Ten Eyck collection held in Fort Worth, Texas, May 2, 1922. It was there illustrated on Plate VI, and realized $92. This, in an offering where an EF (today's AU, or even Unc.) 1776 Continental Dollar brought but $14.25, and where an exceptional Higley Threepence, broad axe type, only sold for $52.

The Bushnell Getz 1792 Washington Cent with Plain Edge

Present day collectors and dealers are in the habit of describing the copper impressions from the half dollar size pattern dies of Peter Getz with small reverse eagle (likewise listed by S. S. Crosby on pages 357-58, there illustrated by his Figure 100, and as No. 8 on his Plate X) as "copper half dollars." This is a serious mistake! Walter Breen, twenty-one years ago, considered that the 1792 dated Getz copper pieces were struck as

cents, and concluded that most of them were probably struck in December, 1791.[7] Breen further observed "...that these pieces were invariably referred to as cents in the earliest coin auctions of the 1860's."[8] Don Taxay treats the subject of the 1792 Getz patterns somewhat differently than Breen, but tends to agree that the copper pieces were intended to be cents.[9] However, he states without qualification that the pattern silver half dollars rather than the coppers were struck, for the most part, in December, 1791.[10]

The Bushnell Getz 1792 Washington cent with plain edge was one of three important Washington patterns that appeared in a larger lot of Washingtonia at a Long Beach, California gathering this June. The others were the second known example of the half dollar with twin olive leaves on the edge, earlier mentioned, and the fifth coin that will be described and discussed in this article. The present cent is struck upon a broader, slightly thinner flan than most of the plain edge copper specimens. It weighs 257.5 grains, compared to recorded weights of 220 to 273 grains for the other Getz copper patterns. When it was offered as lot #1252 of the 1882 offering of the C. I. Bushnell collection,[11] the Chapman brothers called it "uncirculated, and the finest impression we have seen; the edge slightly bruised, but a splendid specimen." The coin has a uniform, evenly toned chocolate surface upon both sides, and is highly attractive. Knowing full well that it has been sliding around a cabinet drawer since before I was born, I would still describe it today as being Abt. Unc.-50+ with (mainly) minor rim bruises.

Charles I. Bushnell was a wealthy, somewhat eccentric, often mysterious nineteenth century collector. He was born in 1810, and died in his New York home, on Sept. 17, 1880. Known as the author of two numismatic works published in 1858-59 which concerned tradesman (merchant) and political tokens and the first three business tokens of N.Y., Bushnell was better known as a specialist in American colonials, tokens, and medals. Despite his reputation for having an unsurpassed knowledge of Early Americana, his collection revealed him to be the owner of many suspicious and questionable items, including the infamous Good Samaritan Shilling. It is said that he promoted the Brasher gold coinage proposals to doubloon status (he owned the unique variety with the countermark upon the shield), and a series of "Mickey Mouse" Hard Times tokens bears his name to this day. The handling and sale of the Bushnell collection was a celebrated event, and a source of extensive comment for some years. The auction listing was the first of the "large size Chapman catalogues," and much was made of the ages and inexperience of the cataloguers. This is understandable, since the Chapmans, Samuel Hudson and Henry, Jr., were but twenty-five and twenty-three years of age at the time of the sale. Nearly a quarter of a century ago I researched the background and history of the Bushnell offering, and made it the subject of a seven page article in Wayte Raymond's "Coin Collector's Journal,"[12] at the request of Mr. Raymond.

The Historical Background of the 1792 Getz Patterns

Peter Getz, a self taught silversmith and goldsmith from Lancaster, Pa., cut the dies for the 1792 pattern Washington half dollars and cents which bear his name. According to Don Taxay, Robert Birch (of Birch Cent fame) supervised Getz's work on the dies and sunk the punches for the date and legends.[13] A different pattern reverse than that utilized in the production of the four coins commented upon here was also cut, but subsequently cancelled, and is only known by a single silver (half dollar) impression (Baker 23). All authorities agree that the relatively common, 1791 Birmingham made, Westwood-Hancock small and large eagle coppers served as models for the Getz pattern half dollars and cents.

As mentioned earlier, there is some disagreement as to which were first struck, the Getz silver half dollars or the copper cents from the same pattern dies. Walter Breen developed a logical case in 1954,[14] when he concluded that the copper impressions from the Peter Getz dies with small eagle were the "original Washington cents of 1791," as mentioned in Snowden's Mint Manual of 1860.[15] Happily, there is a concensus

About the Author

This is John Ford's first article for The Numismatist in nearly a quarter of a century. During that period he did win a Heath Literary Award for his testimonial to the late Wayte Raymond. Much of his research efforts since 1950 can be found in the publications of the New Netherlands Coin Co., New York, with which he has been associated. Born in Hollywood, California, fifty-one years ago, Ford is a college drop-out who left the campus for a brief career as an aerial photographer and later retired from WW II military service as a Chief Warrant Officer in the Army's Military Intelligence CIC branch. Long involved in numismatics, Ford is keenly interested in every American phase of the science. A director of the Professional Numismatists Guild, 1971-75, he was the first recipient of the Guild's Founders Award, for being responsible for the organization's Certificate and Robbery Prevention programs. Ford's interests, aside from numismatics, are many. Currently, he is designing an Arizona home which will be heated and cooled by solar energy.

of opinion as to when the coins were collectively struck, where they were first made, and where they were subsequently manufactured. The Getz 1792 dated patterns were initially struck in December, 1791, and then again in January and/or February, 1792. The first impressions were taken in the basement of John Harper's saw factory, located at the corner of Sixth and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia. The second strikings were made on a press constructed by Adam Eckfeldt, for many years the Chief Coiner of the Mint. The Eckfeldt press was in an old coach house on Sixth Street, above Chestnut, in Philadelphia. The precise location of the old coach house is unclear, as some writers place it opposite Jayne Street, and others across from Carpenter street. It is interesting to note here that the half dismes and dismes of 1792 were also made in John Harper's celler, presumably upon a smaller press than that used for the Getz pieces.

Agreement is unanimious that the Peter Getz coins were the only Washington pieces of the period made in the United States. The half dollars accurately give the devices and legends called for in the bill introduced into the Senate by Robert Morris on December 21, 1791. Morris was the chairman of a committee appointed by the Senate on October 31st which was to consider a mint project and to draft legislation. Throughout December and early January the Senate debated the Morris committee proposals, finally passing the bill on January 12, 1792, and sending it on to the House of Representatives. The House, presumably on the President's strong recommendations, overwhelmingly voted out a clause providing for Washington's likeness on the coins, and returned the bill to the Senate after passing it by a vote of 33 to 22 on March 26th. There the bill was vigorously debated as the Senate at first refused to surrender its plan for a portrait of the President on the coins, sent back to the House, returned, and finally passed in the House version on April 1st. Washington signed the bill into law the next day, where it became Statute One, the Mint Act of April 2, 1792.

Don Taxay bases his claim that the Getz silver half dollars were struck first upon the contention that they were made to be distributed to members of the Senate when the Morris bill was reported on December 21st.[16] Baker, on the other hand, thought it "apparent that the original text of the (Morris) bill was founded on specimens submitted to the Senate Committee, a number being struck in copper for the purpose, as well as for presentation to the different members of both branches of Congress."[17] Breen, as has been said, did not disagree with the Baker inference that the coppers came first, nor did he think it implausible that some 100 cents were made for the 29 Senators and 65 Representatives, serving from Dec., 1791 to March, 1792.[18] Despite considerable conjecture on all sides, we still do not know with any certainty which came first, the Getz patterns or the Morris bill, or if both developed simultaneously. We do know that the recorded silver half dollars, weighing from 193 to 248.75 grains with different planchets and edges, and the known copper cents with similar weights of 220 to 273 grains, all seem to conform to the 208 to 264 grains specified under the terms of the Morris bill. Presumably, the inferior quality of the rollers utilized to fabricate the strips from which the several types of planchets desired were taken was responsible for the wide range of weights known for each denomination. Getz and Birch undoubtedly used primitive equipment and labored under some stress. Time was of the essence, and each desired an appointment in the new Mint. Since there was no time to engrave a suitable reverse for the copper cent patterns, as called for in the Morris bill, the reverse die of the half dollar was used.

To assume that 35 half dollars and 100 cents were struck is quite reasonable, and consistent with the established rarity of the pieces. Breen originally made this assumption, and concluded that the two figures "will provide almost the correct ratio of silver to copper specimens surviving."[19] George Fuld has claimed that eighteen silver examples of all kinds still exist,[20] and he could be on target. However, his breakdown of 15 plain edge coins, 2 with circles and squares, plus a single piece with twin olive leaf device, is incorrect. There are possibly a dozen plain edge pieces, 4 or 5 ornamented edge (circles and squares) half dollars, and, as pointed out earlier, two specimens with the twin olive leaves. The unique example with a lettered edge, the Charles II halfcrown overstrike, was of course not known to Fuld. Friend Fuld has thought that about 70 plain edge copper cents are extant, and six or more with the circles and squares edge.[21] While he may be correct in the latter instance, certainly no more than 40 or 50 copper patterns exist in all grades with the plain edge. Unfortunately, some of the silver strikes are either badly worn or damaged, and several others have been holed and plugged. Likewise, many of the copper patterns are found abused, although the cents are far more easy to obtain in a high state of preservation than the much rarer half dollars.

1792 Washington Stars Over Eagle Half Dollar with Lettered Edge

Lettered edge 1792 Birmingham pattern Washington silver half dollar.

The 1792 Washington "Stars over Eagle" multi-denominational patterns constitute an elusive and mysterious series. These coins have the WASHINGTON PRESIDENT obverse with 1792 date, and the large heraldic eagle reverse showing twelve stars placed in a semi-circle about the top periphery and a thirteenth star located just above the eagle's head. The reverse die is similar to that used for the familiar 1791 Birmingham made, Westwood-

Hancock large eagle cent. Upon the obverse, the uniformed bust of Washington faces left, after the 1778-79 sketch by Du Simitière, and the reverse displays a similar eagle motif with scroll in beak, but with the eagle arms considerably larger and differently executed. In heraldic terminology, the 1791 cent shows a shield argent, six pales gules; the 1792 patterns the more traditional shield argent, six pales gules, a chief azure. The most distinguishing feature of the 1792 reverse, other than the updating of the eagle-arms design, is the substitution of the thirteen stars for the denomination, ONE CENT. These dies are described by S. S. Crosby as his Obv. 2, Rev. B; they are illustrated by his Figure 98, Page 355, on Plate X, No. 10. Examples are found from them with the edge plain, in both silver and copper, and with the edge lettered (incuse) UNITED STATES OF AMERICA • X, in gold, silver, and copper.

Taxay, in his Comprehensive Catalogue and Encyclopedia of U.S. Coins, 1971, lists the silver strike with lettered edge as 3-D, and calls it Rarity 8. He describes all of the pieces as a "Half Dollar?" and places the group under the title of Semi-Official Essays. The Yeoman Guide Book of United States Coins, 29th Edition, designates all impressions from these dies, regardless of composition, the same way, as an "Eagle 'Half Dollar'." W. S. Baker has the silver (and gold) impressions as his No. 20, but makes no mention of the silver pieces extant with plain edge. All known specimens of this type, save a single copper example with lettered edge in the Eric P. Newman collection, are from an obverse die with the T in PRESIDENT above the corner of Washington's shoulder. As shown in Figure 5 above, this follows the obverse legend placement of the 1791 small eagle cent, except on the 1792 coins there is no stop after PRESIDENT. The unique Newman copper piece, Taxay 4,[22] has the T of PRESIDENT placed under the shoulder.

Breen describes these pieces, regardless of metal or variety, as the "Washington Eagle cent of 1792."[23] In his opinion, the Washington bust found upon these coins, which closely resembles that on the small eagle cents, is either from a different device punch or the same one extensively reworked. Walter's critical eye notes that the profile is stronger, the nose more Roman, jaw much heavier, eye more deeply set, the brow more sloping, and the collar, truncation of bust, and shoulder more curved, among other differences. Punchlinked with the small eagle coppers, the 1792 Washington "Stars over Eagle" dies are undoubtedly by the same die sinker who made both 1791 cents. The authorities agree that this was John Gregory Hancock, Sr., ably assisted by a young apprentice named John Jordan.[24] These multi-denominational patterns were presumably struck as a small scale speculative issue after the abortive promotion of the large and small eagle cents of 1791. During a visit to Birmingham in 1973, I confirmed the belief that Hancock worked at the establishment of Obadiah Westwood, and that the pieces attributed to him were struck in that die sinker's plant. The fact that the 1792 pieces exist in gold, silver, and copper, as do the 1785 Immune Columbia patterns, which also originated in Birmingham, suggests that the makers, in both instances, were fishing for a coinage contract with the infant republic in America and were prepared to make coins in any or all of the three metals as required. The concept of utilizing a single pair of dies or identical dies for three different denominations, in a period when even Benjamin Franklin suggested the use of medal dies for coin manufacture, could well have been considered an enticing and pragmatic proposition by its proposers. A man who disagrees with this reasoning, Colonial specialist Eric P. Newman, is the long time owner of the solitary specimen in gold known of the 1792 "Stars over Eagle" patterns. Last winter, in a carefully written two page furtherance of his argument that the coin was Washington's pocket piece,[25] the St. Louis collector contended that the 1792 Birmingham struck coins were actually intended to be cents and the gold and silver impressions were made entirely for presentation. In 1973, Walter Breen, in his Numismatic News Weekly series,[26] thought differently: "Earlier owners all believed that this (the gold specimen) had been President Washington's pocket piece. In view of his opinions concerning portraiture on coins, this seems unlikely—unless indeed it had been given to him as a medal."

The present silver pattern weighs 168.5 grains, compared to the weight of 187 grains given by Crosby, Breen, and Newman. It has been neatly and masterfully plugged, which might explain the weight differential, but the newly resurrected specimen of the Getz half dollar with twin olive leaves upon the edge, obtained with this rarity and analyzed earlier, turns out to be the heaviest of the 1792 Philadelphia struck silver patterns. The plug aside, this remarkably clean appearing coin could honestly be described as Very Fine-30. This is quite likely the example that appeared as lot #690 in the Edward Cogan auction sale of April 12-13, 1877, where the obverse was illustrated on Plate 1. Probably only four or five examples are known of this British half dollar coinage proposal with lettered edge, and only two or three with the edge plain. George Fuld has claimed that five or six lettered edge specimens are extant, plus another four or five with plain edge.[27] Crosby knew of only four, of both varieties, which makes some of us wonder how our friend George arrived at his figures.

Together with this 1792 Westwood-Hancock silver pattern, the Getz Washington half dollar with twin olive leaf device and the Bushnell specimen of the Getz copper cent were purchased early last June as part of a group of Washington items that included at least one medal. The fourth most important coin in the lot turned out to be a Washington Liverpool halfpenny. This assemblage was purchased at the California Long Beach show by Dallas dealer Steve Ivy, who kindly forwarded the three described pieces to me for examination and photography. It is presently believed that they, together with the rest of the group, originated from the W. S. Baker collection, which has long been the property of a prominent Eastern institution. The strong resurgence of interest in Colonial series, long overdue and brought about partly by the Bicentennial observance, may bring other long buried and forgotten early American coins to light. Hopefully, some of these, as in the present instance, could turn out to be unknown or unpublished examples.

from your president virginia culver

Plans for the 1976 ANA convention in New York City are underway. President Culver is seen here with Morris Bram, honorary general chairman (l) and Dan Surin, general manager of the Americana Hotel in New York, site of the '76 gathering.

There is a saying that the best comes last! In this, my last message to you as your president, it is exciting to announce that a sole source contract between the American Numismatic Association and the American Revolution Bicentennial Association is in the final stages. The proposal would fund the necessary money needed to produce a Bicentennial catalog of numismatic items covering the periods of 1776, 1876, and 1976. Funding would cover such administrative costs as ANA staff time, authentication and proofing, acquisition of rights to materials, use of supplies and facilities, travel and transportation, and such production costs as the reproduction of text and illustrations, and writers and illustrators fees. Royalties from the sale of the catalogue would fund further ANA museum projects.

This has been a monumental year for our association! We have admitted more new members than ever before in our history. We have received more cash donations than ever before in our history, and more material donations than ever before in our history. We were forced to accept a deficit budget in January, but the final audit shows us in the BLACK. We have opened a magnificent museum of which everyone may be proud, and are planning to complete the old museum and extra space in a different, but complementary style to the existing new museum. We have sent out more books from our circulating library than ever before in our history. We have received grants from non-numismatic oriented organizations for the first time in our existence. The Numismatist, our official journal, has grown larger than ever before in our history. We expect to have the largest convention in our association's history.

The surface has barely been scratched in the opportunities that exist or the doors that can be opened for our American Numismatic Association. It is my fervant hope that each year in the future brings continual growth and progress.

It is difficult to think of saying goodbye. The ANA is in my blood now and the ten years which I have spent as an elected officer have passed all too quickly. The highest praise goes to headquarters personnel. We are indeed lucky to have their devotion and cooperation. Your board of governors for the past two years deserve the highest praise also, for they have worked hard and worked constantly. Being your president has been a privilege and an honor which I shall never forget. You, the members, make the ANA what it is, and you've every reason in the world to be proud and happy. But let this be only the beginning!

Early Coin Dating and the First Anno Domini Dated Coins

by David R. Cervin
ANA 65523

Of the numerous characteristics that differentiate one coin from another, probably the most far-reaching is the date. A recently dated dollar is worth exactly that, just one dollar. But change the date to 1804 and the value goes up more than one-hundred thousand fold. Were it not for dates on coins, the vast collections of cents, nickles, dimes, etc., gathered by thousands of numismatists would be comparatively miniscule in size.

The very fact that practically all coins today, worldwide, carry dates raises a thoughtfully interesting question: When and where was the first dated coin struck? Who struck it, and why? To one who has given little thought to the subject, it may come as a surprise that there are numerous bases of dating other than the Christian era, and the year A.D., Anno Domini, which translates "In the year of our Lord."

Early Methods of Dating

An early method was devised by Julius Caesar who was made consul in 48 B.C. On this gold aureus struck in 46 B.C. (Figure 1) may be read COS TER, or third consul. Thus the base here is the first year that Caesar was granted the title of Consul, and this coin signifies that he has received this title three times. However, the title of Consul or any other office, such as dictator (Caesar also held title of dictator), was sometimes held for more than a year and the dating on the coin was not necessarily made on an annual basis. At all events, Caesar had provided a basis for dating coins, though not as systematic a one as our present methods.

This is an early example of dating a coin by a base other than the Christian era. Caesar was first granted title of Consul in 48 B.C. On obverse may be read COS TER, or third consul. Thus this is the year three of a base starting with his first consulship. Transferred to our Christian era base, it was struck in 46 B.C. However, this method of dating was not infallible as Consulships (and other honorariums and titles) were not necessarily granted annually.

Incidentally, though the name of Caesar appears on the aureus, the portrait is not his. It is the veiled head of Pietas, the personification of piety and dutifulness. Strong as Caesar was, even he could not get his portrait on coins until the year of his murder, 44 B.C. Maybe there is a moral to this coincidence. On the reverse is pictured the lituus, the jug, and the ax, conventional symbols of the period, and A HIRTIVS PR, which stands for A Hirtius Praefectus, Hirtius who was a moneyer and governor.

True regnal dating by years was not introduced by the Romans until six centuries after Caesar's death, and then it was by the eastern Roman empire, or, as it is more traditionally referred to, the Byzantine empire. Justinian, in the year 538, the twelfth year of his reign, placed on his 40 numia bronze (Figure 2) the word ANNO vertically, on the left of the sign of value, and the numeral XII to the right. He evidently liked this regnal form of dating, for he continued this method for the remaining twenty-seven years of his reign. Other Byzantine emperors continued this dating for a total elapsed time of about 200 years, whence it ceased and never was reestablished. On the obverse is shown the frontal bust of Justinian.

One of the oldest continuous forms of dating was that introduced by the Mohammedans in 622 A.D. Called "After Hegira" (A.H.), year 1 commemorates the famous Flight of the Prophet which marked the beginning of the spread of Mohammed's message. The coin illustrated (Figure 3) is a gold dinar struck by Ali-Ben-Tusuf of Almeria (Moslem Spain) in 518 A.H., or 1124 A.D. To those who can read Arabic characters the date starts at two o'clock and finishes at five o'clock. The numbers shown are successively 500, 10 and 8, totaling 518. This form of dating extended well into the twentieth century and probably still exists in isolated areas. However, there is one minor element of confusion in converting A.H. dates to A.D. dates. The Mohammedan year is based on the lunar year, rather than the solar year, and is three percent shorter. Thus, for every one hundred A.H. years, there are three less A.D. years. Overlooking this can result in impressive errors.

True regnal dating by the Romans did not appear until six centuries after Caesar's death, and then it was by the Eastern Roman, or Byzantine Empire. Justinian, in the twelfth year of his reign (538), placed on his 40 numia bronze the word ANNO vertically, on the left of the sign of value, and the numeral XII to the right. This method of regnal dating was to continue for about 200 years, though only on bronze coins and then only a small part of them.

One of the most exciting coins bearing a regnal date was that struck by

One of the oldest continuous forms of dating was that introduced by the Mohammedans in 622 A.D. Called "After Hegira" (A.H.), year 1 commemorates the famous Flight of the Prophet which marks the beginning of the spread of Mohammed's message. This form extended well into the twentieth century, and still exists in isolated areas.

Roger II, King of Sicily from 1130 to 1154 (Figure 4). It is Roger's distinction to have united all the Norman conquests of southern Italy into one kingdom. By 1140 he had become a powerful monarch and was regarded as one of the greatest kings in Europe. To celebrate this great rise in position, power, and prestige, Roger struck a concave silver ducat and had the foresight to include on the reverse, located vertically just below the center of the coin and a little to the left: AN R X. This abbreviation expands to Anno Regni Decimo which translates literally, "Reigning year ten." Since Roger began his kingship in 1130 A.D. the coin was struck in 1140.

However, the exciting facet of this coin is that it is probably the only regnally dated coin between the demise of regnal dating by the Byzantine empire around 740 A.D. and its reintroduction by the Popes early in the sixteenth century. Note the word "probably" in the previous sentence. Others may, of course, exist, but I have not been able to find them. This would indicate this unusual ducat as an important link in the history of numismatics.

Before leaving this fascinating coin the pictures and legends bear study. On the reverse Roger II is shown on the right, heavily adorned in kingly regalia. To the left appears Roger, his son, holding a large cross. Note the heavy shadow at the bottom of the coin which demonstrates the concave (or convex) shape of this coin. On the obverse is a bust of Christ full face. The legends are most fascinating. The obverse reads: XIG XG IN ÆTRN, Jesos Christos Regnet in Aeternum in Latin and Jesus Christ Reigns in Eternity in English. Today it would be hard to find any coin anywhere with such a passionately strong religious sentiment. On the reverse is read, on the right: RR SLE. This is an abbreviation of Rogerius, Rex Sicliae, which means Roger, King of Sicily. On the left appears: R DX AP, which stood for Rogerius Dux Apuliae, Roger, Duke of Apuly.

Roger II, King of Sicily from 1130 to 1154, introduced possibly the only regnally dated coin from the period between the demise of regnal dates by the Byzantines in 740 A.D. and its reintroduction by the Popes early in the sixteenth century. The Roman numeral X dates this coin as the tenth year of Roger's reign, or 1140 A.D.

The popes not only reintroduced regnal dates but included Anno Domini dates on the same coin. Here on obverse may be seen, INNO XII P M A IX which translates: Innocent XII (1691-1700), Pontifex Maximus, Anno IX (1699). On the reverse is the Anno Domini date 1699.

As already mentioned, the popes reintroduced regnal dates on coins in the sixteenth century. However, they also introduced a new innovation by including the Anno Domini date (Figure 5). This coin, issued by Innocent XII (1691-1700), shows on the obverse: INNO XII P M A IX or, Innocent XII (1691-1700), Pontifex Maximus, Anno IX, which corresponds to 1699 A.D. Sure enough, on the reverse is the date 1699, making this a dated coin with dual dating bases, a type not too common in numismatics.

An interesting modern base was introduced by the French revolutionists in 1793. They just started over with the year 1. Illustrated (Figure 6) is a twenty franc gold piece struck by Napoleon in 1804, or more precisely A.N. 12, while he was still first consul, just one year before he seized the reigns as emperor. Note the name Bonaparte on the obverse. Traditionally, the given name of a ruler appears on European coins, then as well as now. But in 1804 Napoleon was first consul, not the emperor. As such he was compelled to use his family name. As soon as he took over the reigns as emperor he used his given name, Napoleon. Since his time in office as first consul was considerably shorter than his reign as emperor, coins bearing

The French revolutionists started over in 1793 with the year 1. This system of dating continued until the year 14 (1806), when Napoleon declared it to be abolished and got back in step with the rest of the world. Shown is a 20 franc gold piece struck by Napoleon in the year 12, or 1804 A.D.

Bonaparte are a bit rarer than those reading Napoleon.

This system of dating was abolished in 1806, at the direction of Napoleon, to return to Christian A.D. dating. Though Napoleon was a religious man, he was only passively so. He brought back the Christian era of dating not because he himself wanted it, but because the French people showed a dislike for the pagan method of dating and expressed a desire to return to the Christian era. Napoleon found it politically expedient to do so.

There are numerous other bases for dating coins, but most are very limited in scope and often only regnal in time. Exceptions to this statement may be found in the orient where continuity in dating over many centuries exists. To those who would pursue this subject further, it is suggested that they study Thomas P. Rockwell's "Dating Systems on Coins Since 1000 A.D.," in the January and February 1974 issues of The Numismatist.

The First Anno Domini Dated Coin

In the year 1372 Aachen struck her first A.D. dated coins, followed by the dates of 1373, 1374, and 1375. No more coins were struck until 1402. Most authorities credit Aachen with striking the first dated coin and this, together with the early series through 1375, gives Aachen the sobriquet of "Cradle of Anno Domini Dated Coins."

Unfortunately, no coins are extant for the first two years, making the 1374 the oldest existing A.D. dated Aachen coin (Figure 7). There are not many of these, either. In addition to the one pictured here there is one in the British Museum, four in the Aachen City Museum and three in the Berlin City Museum. Aachen and Berlin have been collecting

This is the oldest extant dated Aachen coin, one of only nine know to exist. A universal characteristic of medieval coins is their religious sentiments. These early Aachen coins are no exception. The legend XC VINCI, Christ conquors, XC REGN, Christ reigns, is probably not exceeded in religious fervor by any coin since.

these coins for several generations. The date, in Roman numerals, may be seen from eight to twelve o'clock. Roman numerals predominated until about 1490, after which they were seen less and less frequently.

It is difficult to read the legend on the obverse of this coin (dated side) without being moved and truly impressed with the intense religious feeling that people had during medieval times: XG: VIRGI XG: REGN ARDNIM EEELXXIIII, Christos Vinci — Christos Regn, Christ Conquers—Christ reigns, in the year of our Lord 1374. The inner legend reads simply: MONETA IVNEGHEIT, Money of Jungheit. Jungheit was a borough of Aachen long since absorbed by Aachen. Note that Jungheit starts with an "I." The Latin alphabet did not contain a "J." Medieval scholars invented the "J" in the sixteenth century.

The reverse has a bust of Charlemagne holding a scepter diagonally in his right hand and a globe with a cross on top in his left. Charlemagne, who died in 814, is France's all-time hero. Beneath, there is an eagle facing left and shield.

An interesting feature of the legend is the spelling of Christ: XC or Chi Sigma, the first and last letters of Christ in Greek. They were frequently used in medieval times as an abbreviation for Christ. Another way was XP or Chi Rho, the first and second letters for Christ. A third way to show Christ was to use all three, or XPC the first, second and last letters of Christ in Greek. Note that our abbreviation for Christmas, XMAS, stems from this medieval usage.

Was this 1372 Aachen the first A.D. dated coin? Not in reality. Actually, a coin preceded it by 138 years.

Between the years 1696 and 1710 there came to the Royal Museum in Copenhagan a coin that had an astonishing legend (Figure 8). On one side, starting at one o'clock and concluding at eleven o'clock, there appeared: M:CC:XX I. The space where Roman numerals are missing was caused by an off-centered striking, as shown by the picture. A casual inspection of this space shows that at least four letters, and possibly five, are missing. A detailed study indicates that there are several combinations ranging from VIII (1229) to XXVII (1248) that will fill the space. But accepting any combination, the date was far and away much earlier than the accepted earliest A.D. dated coins struck by Aachen.

However, the fact that some numbers were missing caused an unending controversy. Since the date was not complete, could it be fairly termed the first dated coin? Seemingly yes, at least from a logical point of view. But no less an authority than Albert R. Frey, in 1914, refused to accept this position. He acknowledged the coin's existence but chose to give the honor of the first dated A.D. coin to the 1373 Aachen. (Even he, scholar though he was, was not aware of the 1372 Aachen). Of course, he may have also not recognized it as the first because it was definitely not the start of regular dating on coins. As a matter of fact 138 years were to elapse before the regular application of dates started in 1372.

But something spectacular happened in 1934. A numismatist, while rummaging through some coins in the museum in Blekinge at Karlskrona, Sweden, unearthed a specimen (Figure 9) of the Roskilde coin that had the whole date! The missing letters were: XIII making the whole date M:CC:XXX:IIII or 1234.

Thus a 230 year old mystery was solved. But Denmark was not satisfied. They wanted the coin and Sweden was not about to release it. So Denmark entered into a vast program to find a whole coin of their own.

In 1941 their efforts were rewarded by locating a third specimen. However, these first three coins gave no clue as to the real origin of the coin. They came from diverse collections and could have been issued by some bishop other than Niels Stigsen. Then, while probing the ruins of the AEbelholt Convent in 1943, a fourth specimen was unearthed. As this convent was near Roskilde, which in the thirteenth century fell under the jurisdiction of the bishop of Roskilde, the first clue to more positively identifying these four coins presented itself.

This is not only the first Anno Domini coin ever struck, but it is the first of the six now known. (See text.) Observe that the date (obverse) extends all the way around the coin, except for the cross at twelve o'clock. However, the date is incomplete due to off-centered striking, reading: +M:CC:XX I. Because of this deficiency, which permits a date range from 1229 to 1248 (see text), for over two centuries scholars refused to recognize this as the first dated coin.

In 1934 the second Roskilde was found and the date mystery was solved. Though somewhat obscured by age, the date may be clearly read as: +M:CC:XXX:IIII. The reverse reads + Anno Domini. Thus the entire legend on both sides of the coin is devoted solely to the date, possibly the only such instance in numismatics.

If more could be found, positive identification might be reasonable.

Denmark therefore entered into a truly tremendous program of numismatic exploration. It was thought that a rich untapped source of old coins might be in the earth under the floors of older Danish churches. Over 100 churches were examined resulting in some 5,000 coins being uncovered. In 59 of the older churches 161 coins were found that were issued between 1146 and 1241, which includes the year of our 1234 date. Of these 161 coins, two had the rare 1234 date, and both were found in the church of St. Ib in Roskilde. Since the AEbelholt Convent is also in Roskilde, it seems reasonable to assign this 1234 coin to Niels Stigsen, bishop of Roskilde. Note the bishops hat on the obverse and a crown (possibly a church) on the reverse.

However, the truly fascinating part of the history of this coin is: Why did the Bishop include a date on it? There is a possible answer to this question, and for this we are indebted to Mrs. Fritze Lindahl of Denmark. Niels Stigsen, in addition to being bishop, was probably chancellor too. The king, Valdemar II, had two-thirds and the bishop one-third of the income from the mint at Roskilde, and so both must have had the right to control the coin's design. But as chancellor, Stigsen may have had the opportunity to control the design on behalf of the king as well. In 1234 the king succeeded in providing a document by which he appropriated for himself half of the income from the mint of Ribe. It looked like the king was beginning a takeover of the mints, or so it might have appeared to the populace. Niels Stigsen may have wanted to show the world that he was able to keep his part of the Roskilde mint in this same year, 1234, so he simply identified this Anno Domini date on the coin. There are no known follow-up dates, which suggests that Stigsen was satisfied with his announcement to the world that his power had not been suppressed. Actually, 138 years were to elapse before dating on coins again appears. We must conclude that neither he nor his successors felt that dates on coins were either useful or necessary. The sleuthing of Mrs. Lindahl is most remarkable, and we are grateful to her for her fine work.

There is at least one other point of interest concerning this coin. On the obverse the legend is solely the date. On the reverse the only words are ANNO DOMINI. These letters can be seen, with some difficulty, on the pictures. These legends are clearly shown on the coin (Figure 8 and 9), the first showing the incomplete date and the second the full date. This is probably the only instance of a date, and only a date, occupying the full legends of both sides of a coin. In this case this makes sense. The sole object of expressing anything at all on this coin was to indicate the date. So, why say anything else?

Early Coins of the Christian Era.

The history of the first Anno Domini coin is a vital link in the annals of numismatic development, but other coins of the Christian era have equally fascinating stories behind them. Certainly the best known and one of the most sought after of the pre-1500 A.D. dated coins is the 1484 gulden groschen struck by Sigismund of Tyrol (Figure 10). Sigismund was the right-hand man of the Holy Roman Emperor Frederick III, and as such he was an archduke of Austria. His prized personal possession was the Tyrol, over which he ruled as a duke, Now you would expect a man possessing Sigismund's qualifications to be in the upper category of wealth. True, Sigismund was hardly a pauper, but he did not have wealth in comparison to his contemporary archbishops who presided over the economically-favored lower Rhine valley. The archbishops accumulated great amounts of gold and accordingly struck numerous gold coins, but Sigismund couldn't get his hands on any gold and was therefore very jealous of these archbishops.

Something useful did happen, however, during his long reign from 1439 to 1496 (these fifty-seven years being one of the longest in medieval times), and Sigismund was quick to take advantage of it. New silver mines were found in the Tyrol, and improved methods of extracting the ore were devised, so presently Sigismund found he had a very large accumulation of silver on hand. It was an opportune time to find new uses for silver.

Up to this time the groschen (or sometimes a double groschen) was the largest coin struck by Tyrol. The gulden

Certainly the best known and one of the most eagerly sought after of the pre-1500 dated coins is the 1484 half-guldengroschen struck of Sigismund of Tyrol. Almost a dollar in size, it is sometimes referred to as "the origin of the dollar."

The 1484 half-guldengroschen was the trial piece. It proved overwhelmingly popular and within two years Sigismund doubled the weight, improved his appearance, and came out with his full guldengroschen.

In 1474 Charles the Bold of Burgundy elected to place a date on a groschen. This is the first dated coin struck in Flanders. Note the interesting medieval numbers from eight to eleven o'clock.

(gold coin struck by the archbishops) had a value of sixteen groschen. Why couldn't a silver coin weighing sixteen times a groschen be struck, thought Sigismund and he appropriately called a "guldengroschen" (gold groschen)? So in 1484 the first trial pieces, slightly less than a dollar in size, were struck to determine their public acceptance. Actually these pieces were eight times as heavy as a groschen, so this coin was called a "half-guldengroschen." Their acceptance proved overwhelming, and within two years a full gudengroschen (16 groschen) was issued (Figure 11). Note the similarity of the two on the obverse (dated) side. They both show the armored and mounted figure of the archduke within a border of the shields of arms of the Hapsburgs possessions. The shields vary in number, thirteen on the 1484 and fifteen on the 1486. The reverse of the 1484 shows a half-length bust of Sigismund, crowned and holding a spear. The 1486 shows the standing figure of the archduke between a seated lion and helmet.

These two coins are anything but typical of dated coins struck before 1500. A more typical example would be the briquet struck by Charles the Bold of Burgundy in 1474 (Figure 12). Note the interesting Arabic numerals from about eight to eleven o'clock. Observe that 4 is shown by an X closed at the top. Another symbol used for 4 before 1500 A.D. was a cursive e. The 7 is an upsidedown V. A second 4 (X) appears. All of these symbols almost completely disappeared at the beginning of the sixteenth century. This 1474 briquet is the first dated coin struck in Flanders, now the Netherlands. The reverse shows a heavily floriated cross. Translations of the legends for both sides are shown.

These are only a few of the interesting coins one can find to examine in a study of early dating methods. Even though the subject of the first coins dated Anno Domini can lead one into the somewhat foreboding and unpopular field of late medieval numismatics, it is hoped that this paper may attract more numismatists to explore the coins and history of all periods, for each period holds its own fascination.

New Commemorative Society Launches Medal Series

The American Bicentennial Commemorative Society was recently formed, dedicated to honoring the men and events that contributed to American independence through the issuance of high quality, limited edition commemorative medals. The Society will issue one new commemorative medal each month — exclusively to Society members — throughout the Bicentennial era, a total of 76 medals in all.

Presently the Society has issued three commemoratives: 200th anniversary of Paul Revere's ride, anniversary of the Lexington and Concord battles, and the bicentennial of the capture of Fort Ticonderoga. The first issue was sculptured by Gilroy Roberts while the other two issues were the work of Abram Belskie and Hal Reed respectively.

Information on becoming a member of the Society may be obtained by writing to the Society's president, Jack Hamilton, Box 1776, Springfield, PA 19064.

■ That our treasurer, Bill Henderson, is a talented man with versatile interests is well known in the Colorado Springs area, and to this scribe. If you'd like to know more about his interests, read some of his articles on check collecting published in The Numismatist in 1973 and 1974. They exemplify the old adage that truth is sometimes stranger than fiction.

Illustrative of Bill's thoroughness and attention to details is a 344-mile trip he took, on which my wife and I accompanied him, to two Colorado mining ghost towns — St. Elmo and Tincup. To reach them he drove over rough winding roads, through one mountain pass at a 12,126-foot altitude where snowbanks could still be seen on the 30th of July. To and from Cottonwood Pass were many hairpin turns in the gravel road, sometimes with barely room for two cars to pass, and frequent places where we could see portions of the road hundreds of feet above or below us.

His objective: to get a dozen or so photos of abandoned buildings in the two towns with which to illustrate articles he is working on. Among the rarities in Bill's collection are checks on banks that existed during the gold mining days of these two towns, and one of his photos was of the long abandoned Miners Exchange Bank in St. Elmo. His check on that bank is the only one known to him.

Thanks, Bill, for the most memorable trip of my life.

■ The ANA enrolled more new members in calendar year 1974 than in the first 46 years of its existence! Of those who enrolled during the first 46 years 254 were dues paying members in 1975 and probably an equal number of them were life members.

■ The New York Times recently quoted an American Society of Association Executives officer as saying "90% of associations in the United States have government relations programs, so they almost have to be here (Washington, D.C.) to guard their industries." Please note the significant word "industries." According to the dictionary, an industry is a specific branch of manufacture and trade. Hence the ANA is not an industry.

Incidentally, some other associations do not feel it necessary to have headquarters in the nation's capital. The American Philatelic Society located its headquarters in State College, Penna., a year or so ago. Very recently we learned that the American Federation of Astrologers quit Washington, D.C., for Tempe, Arizona.

■ "The following story of a Dollar is going the rounds of the press, and we think it is worthy of preservation. At El Paso, Mexican dollars are worth eighty-five cents in American coin. At Paso del Norte, just across the river, American dollars are worth eighty-five cents in Mexican coin.

One morning a car (sic) driver started for the American side with a Mexican dollar. On his arrival at the Mexican town he took a drink of chain lightning, which was fifteen cents, and received an American dollar in change for his Mexican. On his return to the American side he took a drink of equally bad liquor and received a Mexican dollar for his American, and so repeated the drinks at intervals during the day. At night he closed up business with the Mexican dollar he started with in the morning, ready for another day's experience." (American Journal of Numismatics, Vol. XIX, No. 1, July 1884)

ANA Records Successful

Seminar participants relax during an informal get-together Sunday evening which unofficially opened the seventh annual ANA seminar.

With seven times as many students enrolled this year as in the original seminar in 1969, the seventh annual ANA seminar, held July 6th through 12th in conjunction with Colorado College, continued a record of growing success. Thirty states, including the Canal Zone, had numismatic representatives present, with Illinois sending a high of eleven students.

Seventh Seminar

As the time of the seminar approached, anticipation for the week of hectic activity had been increasing in everyone. Even before any students had arrived in Colorado Springs, the ANA staff hurried about headquarters rearranging the library and setting up tables and books for the annual ANA book sale. Mary Ann Ridings, seminar coordinator, dashed between the telephone, her desk, and Colorado College making last minute preparations and changes to assure that the week would pass smoothly for seminarians.

When students began arriving on Saturday and Sunday, they registered with the seminar coordinator and received their orientation packets. Early arrivals had the advantage in browsing through the bargains of the ANA book sale, which had been open to the public since Saturday morning. Coin books, auction catalogs, and numismatic supplies sold anywhere from 5¢ to $5, and one seminarian was so excited by these low prices he bought an entire table of auction catalogs sight unseen. Proceeds from the sale exceeded last year's event, and returned approximately $1300 to the library's budget.

Having found that promises of beautiful weather and scenery were in fact true, seminar visitors enjoyed the warm Colorado sun while they viewed for the first time the changing colors of the Rocky Mountains. Sunday evening students, instructors, and most of the headquarters staff gathered for an informal get-together at the college. An educational forum sponsored by the Colorado Numismatic Society helped to introduce seminarians to this area's numismatics. Adna G. Wilde, Jr., with the expertise of several years of intensive research, presented a slide show on "Lesher Referendum Dollars." Following him, Pikes Peak's favorite master of Colorado lore, William C. Henderson, spoke on "Numismatics of the Pikes Peak Region."

The seminar's official opening, however, took place the following morning with a welcoming address from James Stauss, provost of the college. ANA executive director Ed Rochette went over orientation with students and formally introduced course instructors. Classes began immediately after this brief gathering, and met regularly for the next three days. Many classes also met sometime on Thursday or Friday.

The class most generally popular, the Detection of Altered and Counterfeit Coins, was taught through the cooperation of four gentlemen — ANACS director Charles Hoskins instructed the advanced division, assistant director Skip Fazzari lead the introductory course, Ed Fleishman of Coin World demonstrated specific gravity testing, and student Philip Kaufman assisted in the introductory class. Hildreth Frost, assayer of the Denver Mint, visited the class to answer questions relating to counterfeit detection. Frost was the guest lecturer for the seminar, and on Wednesday morning he gave a detailed description of the minting process of U.S. coinage.

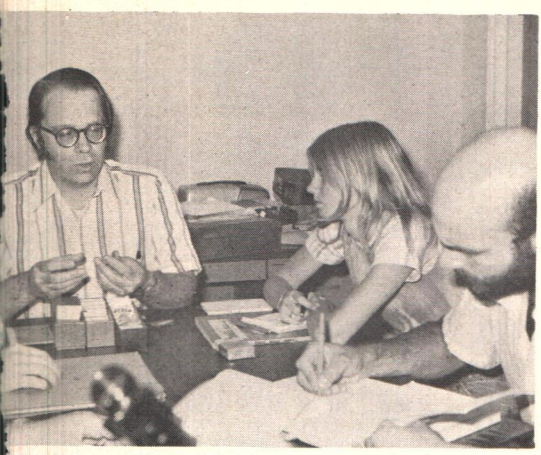
Sol Taylor, instructor for Coin Grading, conducts a lab experiment showing students how coins can be artificially toned.

David Heise of Krause Publications demonstrates techniques in coin photography to his class, and later examines the results with Ed Young.

Bruce McNall, instructor, discusses aspects of ancient coinage with a group of attentive students.

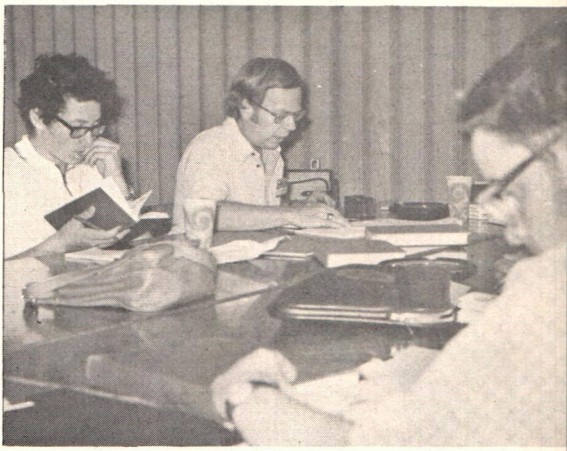


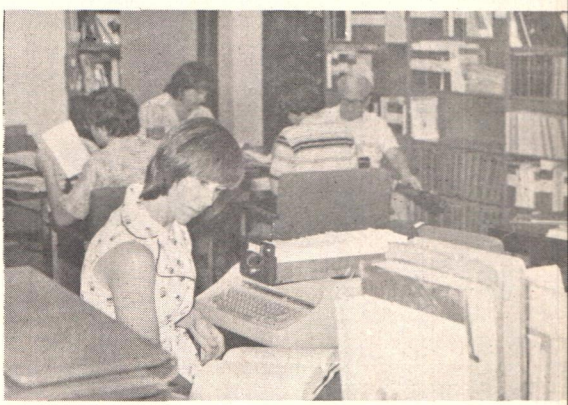
Arthur Fitts, instructor on medieval coinage, explains how in medieval times English silver pennies were broken into pieces to obtain smaller change.

Coin Grading, another extremely popular class, covered grading tools and methods under the direction of Dr. Sol Taylor. During the course, Dr. Taylor led a workshop in whizzed coins (coins in which the condition has been surreptitiously improved) and artificially toned coins. David Heise, photographer for Krause Publications and instructor for Coin Photography, stressed in his class basic photo techniques and inexpensive equipment useful to the average coin collector for his photographic needs in numismatics.

Introductory courses in Ancient Coins, Early American Coins (including the Colonial period), and Medieval Coins were taught by Bruce McNall, Ken Bressett and Arthur M. Fitts III, respectively. As an example of these classes, Medieval Coins, with the aid of slides and ANA museum collections, covered a fascinating period of coinage too often passed over by numismatists. Once the class established where they believed the ancient period ended and the medieval began, Fitts discussed the techniques by which coins were hand-struck opposed to milled, how planchets were prepared, and how the issuing authority maintained control over minting, dies, and the distribution of money. In three days, the class covered most European medieval coins, with emphasis on the English series from single issues to fractions and multiples of silver pennies.

Students are versed on the fine points of early American coinage by Kenneth E. Bressett (center) of Whitman Publishing Co.





Cathy Mundy, library assistant, spends an evening at ANA headquarters to assist seminar students using the facilities after a full day of classes.

After class and dinner, students anxious to pursue further their increasing knowledge found the ANA library and museum open until 9 p.m. with ANA staff members on hand for questions.

Virginia Culver, ANA president, presents a Certificate of Appreciation to Hildreth Frost, assayer of the Denver Mint, for his guest lecture and participation during the summer seminar. Betty Higby, superintendent of the Denver Mint, watches from Mr. Frost's right.

Three days of intensive classes and study left both students and instructors ready to relax on the scheduled field trips on Thursday and Friday. During one half-day, seminar participants traveled to metropolitan Denver for a special tour of the U.S. Denver Mint which allowed them a close-up view of the area where men and machinery mint our national coinage. Betty Higby, Superintendent of the Mint, and Hildreth Frost received the ANA group in the Superintendent's office and gave the tour instructions to follow, including the wearing of safety glasses. Under the close scrutiny of their guides, ANA members were allowed to handle coin products at every stage of production. Several were even allowed to carefully examine the dies. A first for this year's group was a viewing of the melting room, allowed only because the room is being phased out as the Mint increasingly buys prepared coinage strips from private enterprise. After eating their sack lunches in the park, most of the ANA group made the traditional visit to the Denver Gold and Silver Exchange, formerly Dan Brown's coin shop and now managed by Bob Stanke.

In contrast to the sophistication of Denver and the U.S. Mint, the second seminar field trip introduced a taste of Colorado's wild and wooly days, days when Cripple Creek was the largest city in Colorado with a mining population of over 10,000. Leaving headquarters in early morning, seminar buses headed up into the Rockies, over colorful Ute Pass, until passengers saw the valley which holds the once famous and active gold towns of Cripple Creek and Victor. In Cripple Creek, seminarians joined visitors from across the country in exploring a town little changed for 80 years except for the deterioration of time. A must stop for all collectors was a visit to Treasures and Trivia, a shop owned by Joe Lukas. Lukas, originally from Berea, Ohio, spends the summer in Cripple Creek, bargaining with collectors the items he picks up during winter months of travel. Coins, books, records, nostalgia items — everyone can find something desirable at Joe's store.

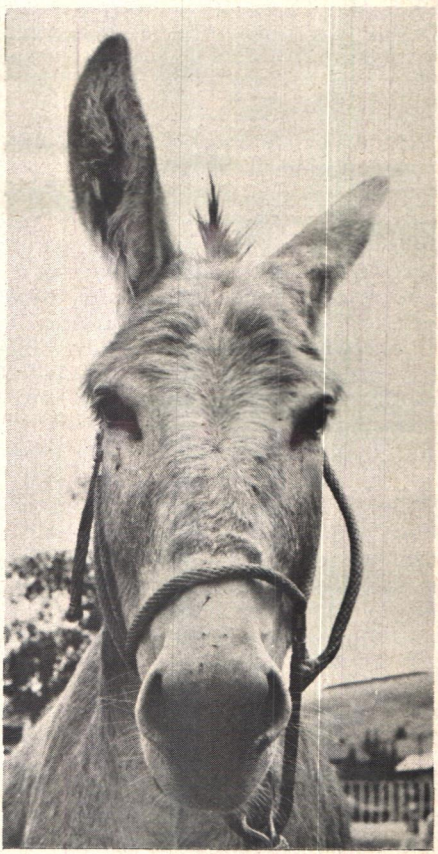
Is this what Fitts meant by a mule?



Included among the many fascinating stories woven into the history of Cripple Creek are . . . tales of Groucho Marx driving an ore cart from Cripple Creek to Victor after his vaudeville act closed in Cripple Creek . . . memories of Jack Dempsey (older brother of heavyweight champion William Harrison "Jack" Dempsey) who was killed in a local mining accident . . . and remarks from Julian Street's expose on Myers Avenue (the famous local redlight district) which was published during the 1930's in Colliers and later earned him the distinction of having Myers Avenue renamed as Julian Street.

Winding its way back to home, the ANA buses ventured on further to Victor, another specter of Gold Rush days and home of Lowell Thomas who started his famous journalism career at the Victor Record. Those who had a knowing eye saw the ghosts of other towns along the road . . . Anaconda, Goldfield, Winfield, and Independence. Only a few architectural remnants or an abandoned mine shaft were left to tell the story of a once bustling mining town.

For anyone who could find time after field trips, classes, and study, there were additional activities and facilities available. Through the courtesy of Colorado College, seminarians were extended temporary student privileges which included use of the Schlessman swimming pool, the El Pomar Sports Center and the Tutt Library. They also were allowed free entrance to the college's annual production of a summer opera "Turn of the Screw." Sunday, all day, was Colorado Spring's monthly flea market, where coins and collector's items could be bought or bargained for on any visitor's budget. And, hopefully, everyone at the seminar found time to visit the lovely Fine Arts Center directly behind the ANA headquarters, and to walk about the beautiful campus and parks surrounding.

The week seemed to go by all too quickly, so full of activities and fun. Saturday was the height of all this excitement as students gathered in Loomis Hall for the seminar's official closing and to receive their certificate of satisfactory course completion. Ed Rochette commented on the seminar's success and thanked each instructor for his contribution to the teaching curriculum. Cliff Mishler, after making the "commencement address" surprised everyone by calling on Bill Henderson, ANA treasurer, to receive Krause Publication's Numismatic Ambassador Award. Many goodbyes were said as seminarians left the seminar with plans to return home or strike out on their own to explore the mountains and Colorado Springs.

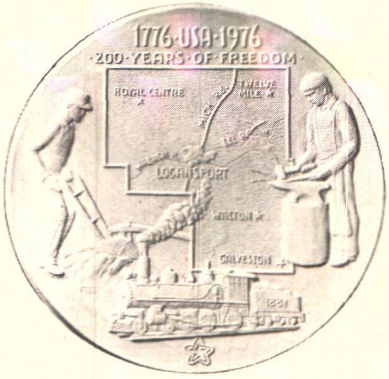
Perhaps you should start considering your plans for next summer. Combine the beautiful Colorado mountains, the warm sun, and the pleasant Colorado College campus with numismatic study and fraternity, and you have a numismatic holiday which can't be surpassed in enjoyment. See you next year!

Indiana County Issues Sesqui-Bicentennial Medal



In 1826 the first permanent settlers came to Cass County, Indiana. To honor the 150th anniversary of this event, and the national bicentennial which falls at the same time, the Cass County Historical Society is issuing a medal (2¾ inches or 70mm) for the dual celebration. Warner Williams, a nationally known sculptor of Culver, Indiana, prepared the original models for the medal.

While the obverse honors the most outstanding local resident of the early years — John Tipton, the reverse has both symbolism and realism. A map of the county, showing its important cities and physical features, is flanked by figures representing pioneer agriculture and business. Below is the representation of a steam engine still in use that was built in Logansport in 1882.

The medals, to be serially numbered, will be struck by Medallic Art Company on special order only. Only those orders postmarked by September 30, 1975, will be accepted. Silver, limited to 76 medals, costs $125 while the bronze is $9.95, postage and insurance included. Checks should be made out to the Cass County Historical Society Medal Fund, 1004 East Market, Logansport, IN 46947.

1976 Convention Medal Design Contest Announced

Have you ever designed a medal, or thought about designing one? If you have, here is your chance to try and win $500 by designing the obverse or reverse of the 1976 American Numismatic Association Convention medal.

To be held August 24-29 of our nation's bicentennial year, the ANA's 85th anniversary convention will take place in New York City at the Americana Hotel. It is only fitting on this occasion that the theme for the convention and its badges commemorate our nation's 200th year of freedom and independence, and, in keeping with the convention's tradition of depicting on its badges the characteristics of its host city, the 1976 local sponsoring committee is promoting the theme of New York's involvement in our country's early history.

Specific rules governing the design contest are simple and easy to follow. Your design, be it for the obverse or the reverse, should include such basic information as: New York is the site of the convention, it is the 85th Anniversary Convention of the American Numismatic Association, and the dates for the convention are August 24-29, 1976. It's as simple as that. You need only develop a design which incorporates both New York and our Bicentennial. And, if you are so inclined, you may submit designs for both sides of the medal, and perhaps win the award for both!

There is no limit on the number of entries you may submit, and no entry fee is required. You must, however, be an ANA member. All entries become the property of the ANA and none will be returned. Entries must be received no later than October 31, 1975 in order to be considered. The winning designs will be selected by several of the most prominent and respected sculptors and medalists in the world.

In recent years, 10,000 to 15,000 people have registered for ANA conventions, and many of them now treasure their ANA registration badges and medals sets. It is likely that the 1976 convention in New York will challenge or surpass these previous attendance

I have read and agree to the official rules of the American Numismatic Association Convention Medal Design Competition. I certify that I am a member of the American Numismatic Association. I further certify that my entry is an entirely original design of my own, has derived from another medal, emblem, logo or seal, and that it has not been, and will not be submitted in any other competition. If my design should be judged the winning entry, I agree to accept the American Numismatic Association's cash award in full payment for the assignment of the entire title and interest in this design. I further understand that my entry will not be returned to me, whether my design wins or not.

The winning contest designs will be struck in bronze badges of both 1½ inch and ¾ inch sizes, as well as in the three-piece plastic encased sets consisting of 1½ inch medals in bronze and silver and a ¾ inch bronze medal. While it is too early to determine whether there will also be gold issues, the possibility is distinct.

All entries must be submitted on official entry forms which are now available from ANA headquarters. For complete details on the competition and a packet containing all rules and the entry form, please write: ANA Medal Design Competition, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

ANACS seminar

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION CERTIFICATION SERVICE

by Charles R. Hoskins, Director

When buying Lincoln cents the following ANACS findings on coins submitted may prove helpful:

1909 and 1909-V.D.B. Occasionally, nice uncirculated or polished coins are offered as proofs. Compare the offered coin with known uncirculated and proof pieces. (ANACS doesn't determine if coins are proof.) Other cents from 1909 through 1916 are sometimes polished to give a proof sheen.

1909-S (No V.D.B.) Of sixteen examined, one had an added mintmark.

1909-S V.D.B. Of the first 312 pieces examined, 194 or 62.2% were genuine, 111 or 35.6% had added mintmarks, three had false designer's initials on the reverse, and four were counterfeit. (Approximately six for which ANACS could reach no decision are omitted.)

The percentage of 1909-S V.D.B. cents found to have added mintmarks has gradually increased between 1972 and 1975. Apparently there are, or have been, two major mintmark-adding shops during the past several years, and several smaller operations producing relatively few of their fraudulent alterations. The false mintmarks are first cast, then soldered to the coins. Less frequently, we encounter 1909-S V.D.B. cents on which the mintmark was created by lowering the field in the mintmark area by an etching technique.

1914 Proof. One counterfeit has been submitted for authentication. The sandy field near the obverse rim and weak reverse lettering make this forgery detectable with a ten-power glass if the viewer is experienced with the series.

1914-D. 91 pieces examined to early 1975—62 genuine, 11 counterfeit, 15 added mintmarks, and three altered dates (from 1944).

Most of the counterfeits are made from reasonably good dies (not cast) and should be regarded as very deceptive. They first appeared in mid-1972.

1922-D lacking mintmark. Throughout 1972-73 most 1922 plain cents were returned without decision because ANACS was not qualified to authenticate these pieces. (A few were found to have had their mintmarks removed.) Recently the staff has studied these coins more thoroughly and is now able to authenticate the 1922 cents submitted.

Presumably the 1922 "plain" cents were created when the mintmark recess on the obverse die became filled with foreign matter. This filling appears to have occurred in two or more stages, because "partial" mintmarks are sometimes seen on 1922-D cents. This condition places ANACS in the uncomfortable position of having to determine when the mintmark is sufficiently absent for the coin to be certified as "1922 plain." Our standard is quite strict: if any raised metal can be seen in the microscope, the coin is certified as "partial D," even if the coin has the commonly accepted diagnostics.

About 15-20% of 1922 plain cents submitted have been found to have had their mintmarks removed.

1924-D. Of three submitted, one had an added mintmark.

1931-S. All thirteen pieces examined were genuine, but added mintmarks have been reported.

1943 bronze. Forty-eight 1943 cents have been examined since ANACS was established in June 1972. Eleven were copper-plated steel cents (attracted by a magnet and too light for a bronze cent), and three were struck on ten cent silver blanks (genuine). Of the remainder, most were 1945 and 1948 cents on which a privately struck so-called "restrike" even though struck on original government dies, unless incused with COPY in sans-serif capital letters of the size ordered by the FTC.

Fantasy or Concoction?

Another word used freely in numismatic circles is the word "fantasy." "Fantasy" is a pleasant-sounding word. But when a collector buys one, thinking the piece is a coin, that's not so pleasant!

"Concoction" is a more apt word, and it has a less-pleasing connotation. Thus I use the word "concoction" in describing the silver concoctions pictured here. And I don't guarantee the purity of the silver! These concoctions are being sold in quantities in Southeast Asia, most of them claiming to be salvaged treasure trove from the Spanish America of Felipe II, who worked at the king business 1555-1598 A.D.

At the top of the page opposite is a faked Felipe IV 8 reales piece with the date 1630, and "P" for Potosi, assayer T, concocted after Calico No. 998, his page 304, or Yriarte, Lopez-Chaves No. 934, their page 159.

The other three pieces shown here are three of seven concoctions I've seen from the same source, which seem to be from the same beginner engraver, even though one piece pretends to be from the Mexico City mint, assayer O, while the piece at the top of this page says it's a Potosi job. From the same Southeast Asia source also came the offer of a gold 4 escudos concoction, of which I've seen only a rubbing.

How to protect yourself? Don't buy any "bargain" coin anywhere unless you're familiar with the issue. And don't buy any coin at any price in Southeast Asia!

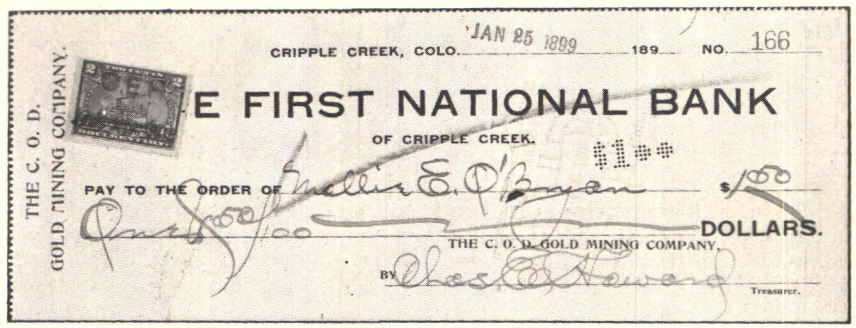
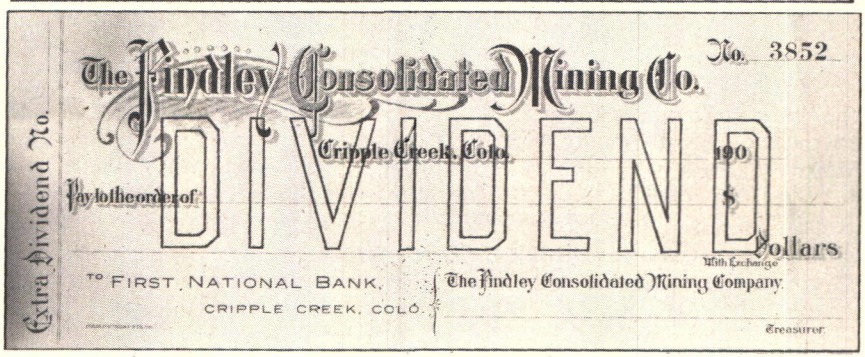
The Doctor Jack Pot Mining Company, The C.O.D. Mining Company, The Gold Sovereign Mining and Tunnel Company, The Findley Gold Mining Company, The Hoosier Boy Mining and Tunnel Company, The Bushwhacker Mining Company, The Orphan Bell Mining and Milling Company, and the Antelope Gold Mining Company —these and a score or more of similar names of mining firms are rather familiar to us here in Colorado Springs, for they have been part of our history for 100 years or more. Gold was the element which brought many settlers to this area, and tales of fabulous wealth or tragic loss may be told about many of these early mining companies, and about those who speculated in them.





A recent donation of several hundred items consists almost entirely of checks and stock certificates, the bulk of which are Colorado related. Your museum had virtually no material such as this, and we are indebted to the Reverend Paul Peel for making it available for study and appreciation. The stock certificates are especially interesting, with their bright colors, elaborate script, intricate vignettes, fanciful and imaginative titles, and the names of the early residents and promoters of the area. The fortunes which are made or lost in today's stock market surely cannot match those to which these bits and pieces of paper bear mute testimony. Nor are "penny stocks" anything new: impressive though a certificate for three thousand, five thousand, or even ten thousand shares may appear, the par value may be but one, five or ten cents per share. At the same time one cannot help but wonder what became of the $10,000 Charles W. Tankusley paid for 100 shares in the San Juan Consolidated the last digit had been damaged or altered to resemble a 3. Two pieces received in 1973 were 1953 cents which had been altered to 1943 by removing the 5 and gluing a 4 in its place. Several cast 1943 cents have been seen.

At this writing, ANACS has two 1943 bronze cents for authentication. Both are of high quality and may well be genuine. If ANACS and its consultants are able to establish to our satisfaction that they are authentic, they will be the first 1943 bronze cents to be certified. One 1943-S bronze cent was certified in 1974.

1944 zinc coated steel. Two bronze Philadelphia cents and two Denver bronze cents have been certified. Other 1944 bronze cents received were found to be false.

1955 double die. Two types of counterfeits of good quality are commonly bought and sold. Of the sixty double die cents examined, sixteen were counterfeit. Microscopic comparison of a suspect piece to a known genuine specimen in extremely fine condition or better is required for authentication.

1959 with wreath type reverse. One was submitted for authentication in late 1973, and it was erroneously certified. (The coin had been altered by applying a 9 to a cent dated 1958 or earlier.) The owner ignored repeated requests for return of the certificate. If ANACS certificate No. 5022 is offered with a 1959 cent, please advise ANACS immediately.

1972 double die. No counterfeits or alterations seen by ANACS to date.

ANACS Questions and Answers

Q. Last week I sent you my 1911-D Quarter Eagle for certification and I was totally disappointed with your service. Today, the coin came back to me with a note which says, "Your enclosed 1911-D $2.50 gold CANNOT be certified. In our opinion, it is not a genuine, original coin."

What does that mean? Are you saying that the coin is counterfeit, or that you don't know? If it's bad, surely you should tell me what's wrong with it so I don't buy another counterfeit. I valued the coin at $500 and enclosed a $15 fee, plus return postage. Is this all I receive for the money?

A. The note sent to you with your coin means that we are very strong in our belief that your coin is false. There are two types of counterfeit 1911-D quarter eagles which we see commonly, and your piece is identical to one of these counterfeit varieties. While our judgment in some areas of numismatics (oriental and Spanish-American coins in particular) is not quite as strong as we would wish (these are among the most difficult areas of authentication), we are satisfied that our ability to authenticate U. S. coins, and particularly U.S. gold, is as near perfect as is humanly possible.

ANACS doesn't explain the characteristics of genuine, counterfeit and altered coins when they are returned to the submittors for two reasons. First, the time is not available to prepare letters for all coins. Second, we would be assisting counterfeiters by telling them how to improve their work.

As a rule, if the note you receive with your coin says "mintmark added" or "date changed from 19--," you know the coin has been altered. If no such notation appears, assume it to be counterfeit.

Q. I was offered a 1955 double die cent with an ANACS certificate last week, but I turned it down because the coin shown on the certificate didn't look like the one I was offered. I decided not to buy the coin. What can ANACS do to insure that false coins aren't sold with genuine certificates?

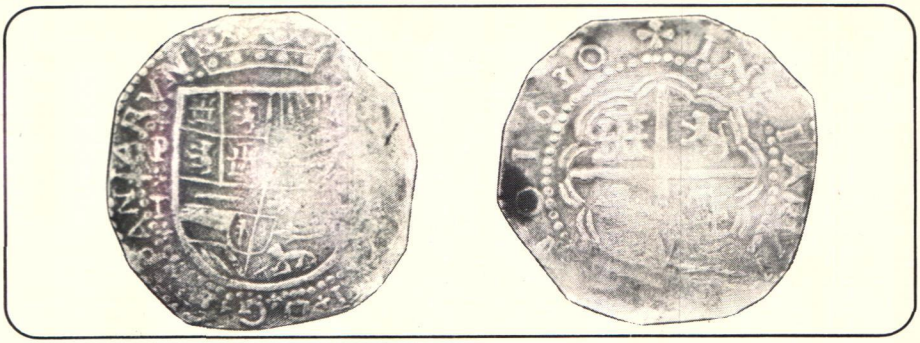
A. ANACS checks its records whenever it suspects that a newly received coin has been certified earlier. If a coin is submitted several times with no reference to earlier certificates, ANACS takes appropriate action within its authority. In these cases we suspect that the submittor is trying to obtain several certificates to use with similar, non-certified pieces.

If you suspect that ANACS certificates are being misused, notify ANACS at once, giving the certificate numbers.



"USA 1854 gold dollar restrike" was the description of one auction lot described a few years ago in a European auction catalog. And, beneath that lot, two more other date US dollars were listed as "restrikes." Since I never saw those three "restrikes" and had never heard of a US mint restriking any gold dollars, I assumed that those "restrikes" were euphemisms for "cast fakes."

The word "restrike" has also been used to unload privately struck coins, allegedly or in fact struck outside the mint and on dies which may or may not be the original government dies. On July 8, 1975, the Organization of International Numismatists (OIN) petitioned the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) for a ruling on whether or not coins privately struck outside a government mint, even though struck on original dies which have by some means (be it theft, loan, or sale) come into private hands, are subject to the requirements of the Hobby Protection Act.

On July 29, 1975, the Federal Trade Commission, through its Bureau of Consumer Protection, gave its ruling. The "meat" of that FTC ruling was that such pieces must carry the incused word COPY. The ruling, defining the word "restrike," in brief is, "A restrike is . . . a coin struck by the original government mint on the original dies, but at a date later than the date appearing on the restrike. It would be our view that any 'restrike' manufactured inconsistent with the above definition would be an 'imitation numismatic item' and thus would have to be marked with the word 'COPY' in accordance with the regulations promulgated by the Commission."
In plain English that means that under the Hobby Protection Act it is now illegal to import, or to manufacture in the United States since November 29, 1973,

Visitors to the Cripple Creek District, such as those who attend the annual ANA Seminar, wonder at the pock marked hillsides and mountainous piles of tailings which clutter the landscape of such fabled towns as Elkton, Goldfield, Anaconda and Independence. Readers of the series of articles in The Numismatist on check collecting by William C. Henderson have marveled at the tales of these silent and seemingly nameless towns and mines. Now that we have tangible evidence of their existence and their history, it remains but to tie them together visually or graphically, no easy task.

Westward expansion of the United States, and the demands made by mining in Colorado and neighboring states of Utah, Wyoming, Nevada and Arizona, inevitably involved the railroad. In the East as well as the West the iron horse played a dominant role, and there were far more railroad companies and competing lines than one is likely to realize.

Railroad stock certificates are further evidence of our lost past. How many have ridden on or can recall the Dubuque and Pacific Rail Road Company line; or those of the Belt Rail Road and Stock Yard Co.; the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Co.; or the Gutheil Park Railway Company? Here too in these certificates are colors, engravings, and names which give us a fascinating insight into the past.

There are many other curious stocks and bonds in this fascinating collection — certificates for hardware stores; a music company; coal, copper, iron, even uranium mining firms; and two for sewer companies! Need a pass on the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway Co., or the Wichita Valley Railway Co.? How about a telegram sent from Salt Lake, July 31, 1864 via the California State Telegraph Company. The Adams Express Company, the American Express Company, and Wells Fargo are here too.

Finally, there is a "drawback." This intriguing document, issued by the United States in November 1866 reimbursed James F. Hunnewell of Boston $21.14 for the "drawback of duties" on tin cans manufactured in the United States of imported tin, because the cans in turn were being exported to Honolulu. Of such the fascination of finance is made.

Fractional currency is familiar to most collectors of United States material. Printed by the American Bank Note Company, these small notes circulated during the 1860's and 1870's. Their distribution, however, was controlled by the United States Treasury. Thanks to the generosity of Norman and Bill Pullen we have what must be a rare item — a cardboard box to which three official, red wax Treasury seals are affixed. Unfortunately, the seals have been broken and the contents of the box removed. It would have been a real prize to have the original 6,000 25¢ notes with a total face value of $1,500. Empty though it is, it will be a highly significant addition to a future display of fractional currency.

Roman Coin Project

Nancy Raisman of Smithtown, N.Y. has become the first girl to earn four Roman coins! Yes, Nancy, the third girl to earn a Roman coin, suddenly skyrocketed and collected two more plus the coveted fourth and final for passing the YNCC. For this outstanding achievement, and since she is the first girl to earn four coins, she has earned a splendid dupondius of Gordon III (238-244). Measuring 28mm (just under the 30mm of a half-dollar) and over twice as thick as the half dollar, the coin has legends on both sides which are almost perfect. This is one of the finest coins ever issued in the ANA Junior give-away program of distributing Roman coins, and it went to a very deserving young lass, Nancy Raisman.

Nancy did a lot of preliminary work in earning her second and third Roman coins. She and a close friend organized and co-chaired a coin show for Temple Beth Shalom in Smithtown, N.Y. This earned her an Antonius Pius (138-161). By also exhibiting at this show (not her own club), she earned a Constans (337-241), one of the three sons of Constantine the Great, all of whom succeeded him simultaneously. She earned a coin of Constantine for her first coin so she now has a pleasing collection of four Roman coins.

Now how much did these four Roman coins cost Nancy? Nothing. Nothing except some pleasant work in numismatics that she would have done anyway. Is this program for obtaining free Roman coins new to you? Write David R. Cervin, 6201 Adirondack, Amarillo, TX 79106, for a Roman Coin Request Form which contains all instructions.

Nancy is not the only four coin earner this month. Remember Richard Sharon, Jr., of Warren, MI? Richard was the second person to earn a Roman coin, and the first to earn both two and three coins, but he hadn't taken the YNCC. He signed up for this, has been studying ever since, and only recently passed with flying colors. As a reward he has received an As of Trejan Decius (249-251), measuring 26mm, slightly larger than a quarter. He is now member No. 8 in that very exclusive club of four Roman coin earners. Remember, juniors, that fourth Roman coin is always quite nice, though not necessarily large. The first three are understandably weaker specimens. So when you get started in the Roman Coin Project, be sure and go all the way.

Many juniors are busy right now earning their initial Roman coins on the way to their fourth and last. Consider the following juniors: Kenneth C. Byrne, South Gate, Calif., who earned a Valentinian I (364-375) for his second Roman coin; Dave Burge, Arlington Heights, Ill., who received a Maximianus (286-305) for presenting a program on "French History through Coins 1800 to Date"; Howard Goldstein, Brooklyn N.Y., who earned three Roman coins—a Caracolla (198-217), a Constans (337-341), and a Constantius II, (337-361); Betty Kleiman, Brooklyn, N.Y., recipient of a Constantine I (307-337), a Constantius (337-361), and a Postumus (258-267), the last earned for being the first to achieve a collectors badge for coins in girl scouts; James Aylward, Melrose, Mass., who received three coins, a Claudius II Gothicus (268-270), a Tetricus I, (270-273), and a Constantine I (307-337); David Edelstein, Indianapolis, Ind., who earned a Gallienus (260-268), and a Constantine II (337-340); Bradford Grob, Somerville N.Y., who earned a Postumus, (259-267) and a Constantine I (307-337); and Bob Fowler, Livonia, Mich., who received three coins, a Licinius I (308-324), Constantius II (337-361), and a Vespasian (69-79).

Note that numerous juniors have earned three Roman coins. To earn their fourth and final coin they must pass the YNCC. This is a fine study course that all juniors should take regardless of earning a Roman coin. Consider the Roman coin as simply a pleasing bonus. Observe what Nancy Raisman has to say about the YNCC. "I really enjoyed it, learning many new things. It helped me in my school classes, especially in my Social Studies. I recommend this course to any coin collector, young or young at heart."

Apollo-Soyuz Linkup Honored

The historic linkup of the U. S. Apollo and the Soviet Soyuz spacecraft has been commemorated in a unique limited edition medal, in both English and Russian.

The galvanos, or the large copper sculptor's models, from which the dies were made for the medal, will be placed in the archives of the National Air and Space Museum of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. The medals, numbered one through five, of the solid silver edition, have been reserved for presentation to the astronauts and cosmonauts aboard the mission.

The medal obverse features the Soyuz docking with the Apollo. The border contains the names, in English, of the spaceships, the three astronauts — Thomas P. Stafford, Vance D. Brand, and Donald R. Slayton, and the two cosmonauts — Aleksei Leonov, and Valery N. Kubasov. Gen. Stafford was commander of Apollo 10, the first lunar module to orbit the moon, in 1969. Col. Leonov completed the world's first space walk in 1965.

The reverse design is a mirror image of the obverse, with the names of the spaceships, astronauts and cosmonauts appearing in Russian. The view of the docking is also reversed, and features the Soyuz, with its distinctive solar shield, in the foreground.

The flight log of the mission will be inscribed on the edge of the medal, showing the dates of launch, docking and recovery.

The medals were created by Marcel Jovine, prominent Closter, N. J. sculptor and industrial designer. The sculptor's distinctive signature appears in English on the face of the medal and is signed in Russian on the reverse. Jovine has created more than 50 medals and is noted for his American and western motifs.

The high-relief limited edition medals will be struck in solid gold, silver, bronze and in the following sizes and prices: solid 18 kt. gold, 1¼ inches, limited to 500 numbered specimens at $400 each; 2½ inch, .999 fine silver, antique patina finish limited to 5000 numbered specimens and priced at $75; and a 2½ inch, antique bronze, high-relief, limited by demand and priced at $10.

The limited edition medals are available by mail from the Medallic Art Company, Old Ridgebury, Rd., Danbury, Conn. 06810. Collectors should add $1.25 for gold or silver medals and 75 cents for a bronze medal to cover costs of insurance, postage and handling. Participating in the distribution of the medal, in addition to Medallic Art, is the International Numismatic Agency, New York City.

new and recent issues

by Ernst Kraus, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, ANA members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N.Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

New Underwriter Announced for ANA Insurance Plans

The ANA's insurance administrator Albert H. Wohlers & Co., has announced that the Great Southwest Fire Insurance Company is the new Underwriter for the ANA Coin Dealers All-Risk Numismatic Insurance Plan. The Great Southwest Fire, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sentry Insurance Group, is the nation's largest insurer of philatelic items and of coverage for jewelers and diamond brokers.

Effective this past June 1st, the Great Southwest Fire offered coverage to coin dealers and exhibitors previously insured with the Zurich Insurance Company. Zurich Insurance Company no longer provides insurance protection to exhibitors and coin dealers. In 1974, Zurich Insurance Company did not show an underwriting profit. As a result of this adverse loss experience, Zurich has withdrawn from providing insurance protection to coin dealers and exhibitors.

"Most insurance companies are withdrawing from high risk insurance coverages these days. However, we're happy to announce that the Great Southwest Fire has outstanding credentials and is committed to providing insurance to coin dealers," stated P. Allen Haney, Property and Casualty manager of Albert H. Wohlers & Co. and ANA, insurance administrator.

The Coin Dealers All-Risk Numismatic Insurance Plan insures numismatic property against all risks of direct physical loss including theft, fire, flooding or explosion. The coverage applies whether the numismatic property is on business premises, on exhibition, in transit or stored in a vault.

More than three years ago, following several major property losses to uninsured coin dealers, ANA asked Albert H. Wohlers & Co. to develop an insurance policy written on a reduced-cost group basis. Since then, several hundred coin dealers have purchased this unique insurance protection. The Coin Dealers Policy has also paid numerous claims, including one for more than $53,000.

For complete information on the ANA Coin Dealers All-Risk Numismatic Insurance Plan, coin dealers and exhibitors should write: Albert H. Wohlers & Co., Administrator, ANA Group Insurance Plans, 720 Garden Street, Park Ridge, Illinois, 60068.

Convention Souvenir Card Again Offered by BEP

In addition to providing a numismatic exhibit at the American Numismatic Association's 84th Anniversary Convention, August 19-24, 1975, in Los Angeles, California, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing made available a souvenir card complementing the event.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

This engraving, printed from a plate prepared from the original master die, is a replica of the back of the 1896 $1 Silver Certificate. It complements the face printing of this class, denomination, and series which was issued as a souvenir card in 1971.

Portraits were placed on the backs of notes of the 1896 Educational Series because the face designs were very detailed and extended over the entire obverse of the notes.

This back was designed and executed by Thomas F. Morris, Chief of the Engraving Division of the Bureau at the time. The portrait of Martha Washington was engraved by Charles Burt in 1878, and Washington's portrait was engraved by Alfred Sealey in 1867.

During 1975, International Women's Year, it is particularly fitting to honor Martha Washington, the only woman whose portrait has ever appeared on United States currency.

84TH ANNIVERSARY CONVENTION—AUGUST 19-24, 1975
LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

THE COPYING OF THIS PRINT IS RESTRICTED BY TITLE 18 U. S. C. WHICH PROHIBITS THE UNAUTHORIZED REPRODUCTION, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, OF CURRENCY, POSTAGE STAMPS, OR OTHER SECURITIES OF THE UNITED STATES.

The subject of the card is a reproduction of the engraving of the reverse of the $1 Silver Certificate, Series 1896, designed and executed by Thomas F. Morris, Chief of the Engraving Division at the time. It complements the face printing of this class, denomination, and series which was issued as a souvenir card in 1971. The portraits of Martha and George Washington appear on the back. Martha Washington's portrait was engraved by Charles Burt in 1878 and Washington's portrait was engraved by Alfred Sealey in 1867.

Copies, priced at $1.25 each are limited to not more than five per customer. Delays of as much as four to five weeks may be anticipated in filling some of the requests. Mail orders, accompanied by the proper remittance in the form of a check or money order payable to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing should be addressed to ANA '75 Card, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D.C., 20228.

Requests for the cards should be submitted on standard letter-size sheets or the order forms provided with previous shipments. The purchaser's name, address, and ZIP code should appear on both the order form and the transmittal envelope. A self-addressed sticker will aid in expediting processing.

Customers are requested not to send cash with their orders.

Art in Numismatics

Although from their beginning coins have expressed the spiritual, political and aesthetic viewpoint of the leaders and peoples for whom they were struck, universally little attention has been given to them as works of art. Even in periods of art awareness when other forms of sculpture, along with painting and architecture were highly recognized, the art of the coin and medal was ignored, except perhaps by those rare individuals recognizing art in all of its manifestations.

The history of coinage is, indeed, a continuous history of art, each period reflecting its talent and the application of that talent during that particular time ... or, in reverse, a lack of talent and its application.

Slowly emerging through the recent years is not only an acceptance of numismatics as an art as well as a science, but also a pursuit of knowledge concerning the designers and artisans who have been responsible for the beautiful specimens of coinage that have been in existence from ancient times to date.

To explore the art and beauty of coins through the ages we recommend the following books available to members from the ANA library:

AA40 G75 NUMISMATICS, by Philip Grierson. 1975. 211 pp. Soft Cover. Oxford University Press, 200 Madison Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10016. $4.95. (Also available in cloth cover at $11.95).

Showing that numismatics is not only a fascinating hobby but also important as a factor in the history of the world, Mr. Grierson traces coinage from its invention in Asia Minor in the seventh century B. C. to the present time. In addition, the author explains coin types, numismatic terminology, and coining methods. Included are chapters on tokens , jettons, medals, and a review of the state of numismatic scholarship and collecting at the present date.

BD32 M5 THE EARLY COINAGE OF CENTRAL ASIA by Michael Mitchiner. 1973. 96 pp. Illus. Paper Cover. Hawkins Publications. (Distributor: B. A. Seaby, 11 Margaret St., London W1 England) Approximately $10 U.S.

The coins discussed in this monograph were issued between the time of Alexander the Great and the Mohammedan conquest in a region bordered by the Caspian Sea in the west, the mountains of Central Afghanistan in the south and the river Jazartes in the east. Both the history and coinage of this area is traced until some decades after the founding of the Kushan kingdom.

PA80 C3A4 v.2 CATALOGUE OF CALIFORNIA TRADE TOKENS by Stephen Album. Vol. 2. 1974. 394 pp. Hard Cover. Stephen Album, P. O. Box 4039, Berkeley, CA 94704. $12.50.

This is a second volume of an extensive listing and description of California trade tokens. All tokens are listed by county and city and indicate the rarity of each.

PA40 F6 CAR WASH TOKENS by Harold V. Ford and John M. Coffee, Jr. 1974. 117 pp. Illus. Hard Cover. American Vecturist Assoc., P. O. Box 1204, Boston, MA 02104. $7.50.

The collecting of car wash tokens began in California and is a comparatively new hobby closely associated to the collection of transportation and parking tokens. This volume is the first attempt at a state and city listing of car wash tokens in book form.

BD15 M5 THE ORIGINS OF INDIAN COINAGE by Michael Mitchiner. 1973. 186 pp. Illus. Paper Cover. Hawkins Publications. (Available from B. A. Seaby, 11 Margaret St., London W1, England) Approximately $11 U.S.

Indian coinage originated in the area of the Indus, Ganges and Narbada rivers as early as the 6th century B.C. The various series of coins struck by the many states in this area are surveyed in 15 chapters tracing the history of Indian coinage from this period on into the 2nd century B. C.

RM30 G7 A GUIDE BOOK OF ONE OUNCE .999 FINE SILVER ART BARS by Thomas R. Greathous and J. A. Kidd. 1975. 100 pp. Paper Cover. Illus. Thomas R. Greathouse and J. A. Kidd. 6199 S. W. 2nd Ct., Plantation, FL 33317. (The 2,000 copy edition of this book was unfortunately sold out in advance. However, bar collectors should know of its existence.)

When the price of silver bullion zoomed so also did the production of silver bars. Private mints appeared rapidly and the weekly output steadily increased. This is the most up-to-date catalog listing these mints, their products, and mintage figures available. Seventy-three mints and approximately 900 bars are listed.

GB20 THE EARLY QUARTER DOLLARS OF
D9 THE UNITED STATES by R. Duphorne. 1975. 73 pp. Illus. Soft Cover. Joint Venture of the Windsor Groud and Starline Management Group, Ltd. Available from The Windsor Group, P. O. Box 3753, Albuquer ue, NM 87110. $9.95.

There are 94 distinct varieties of these early U.S. quarter dollars and this is a new text which explores this series. The details of the essential differences between the varieties are carefully described, new reference points are given for variations on both the obverse and reverse dies, and charts are presented for each series in order to more readily refer to the variations. Along with each description there is a picture of the coin being described.

KA20 COUNTERMARKS OF THE OT-
T8M3 TOMAN EMPIRE, 1880-1922 by Kenneth M. MacKenzie and Samuel Lachman. 1974. 56 pp. Illus. Soft Cover. Hawkins Publications (Distributors: B. A. Seaby, 11 Margaret St., London W1, England) Approximately $10 U.S.

Countermarking copper coinage in the Turkish Empire during the latter part of the 19th century was used as a means of demonetarising and as a means to remedy the shortage of small change. Nearly 500 countermarked coins (Greek, Arabic, Lebanese and Hebrew inscriptions) are cataloged in this monograph. Unattributed countermarks are illustrated with many photographs and drawings.

AA 50 STAMPS AND COINS by Richard H.
R6 Rosichan. 1974. 404 pp. Illus. Hard Cover. Libraries Unlimited, Inc. P. O. Box 263, Littleton, CO. 80120. $13.50.

For the collector of coins or stamps, beginner or advanced student, this book is designed as a guide for study. Covering recently published works, it enables the hobbiest to locate materials in his field of interest that will meet his needs for research and enjoyment, and are available for purchase. While it emphasizes books, it also lists periodicals, both of which are annotated. In addition, and of importance to the coin and stamp collector, organizations and libraries specializing in each hobby are listed and described. Also included are a publisher's directory and three indexes — title, author, and subject.

KA20 THE MULTIPLE DIRHEMS OF A3M5 MEDIEVAL AFGHANISTAN by Michael Mitchiner. 1973. 157 pp. Illus. Paper Cover. Hawkins Publications. (Distributors: B. A. Seaby, 11 Margaret St., London W1, England) Approximately $11 U.S.

These large silver coins were issued in northern Afghanistan during the 10th century A.D. at mints located in the vicinity of the Hindu Kush silver mines. They provided a means of passing newly mined silver rapidly into circulation. Eight hundred of these unusual large silver coins are described by the author. All Arabic inscriptions are reproduced and translated.

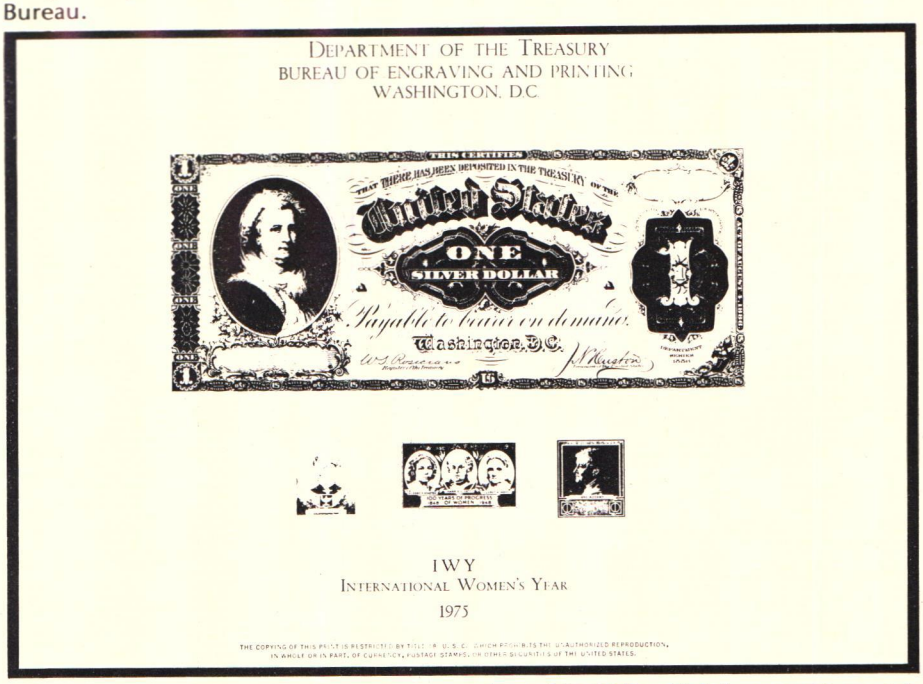
Past President Rothert Recuperating

Matt H. Rothert, ANA past president (1965-67), has been handicapped by a heart condition for several years. Early in July he had major surgery, a heart bypass, in Houston and at press time is doing fine — right on schedule according to his doctor. Matt expects to be out and around soon and looks forward to seeing his many friends. We thought many of them might like to wish him well. His address is P.O. Box 10, Camden, AR 71701.

Special Women's Year Souvenir Offered

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing designated the week of June 16-20, 1975 for the commemoration of International Women's Year in the Bureau. During that week, seminars, lectures, and films of particular interest to women were offered. The entrance to the Bureau featured a photographic display of women at work in the design and production of currency and stamps, and women who are managers in the Bureau.



A brochure was produced including a removable souvenir card in honor of International Women's Year. This brochure should generate considerable numismatic and philatelic interest since the souvenir card contains currency and postage stamps in its design. The Series 1886 $1 Silver Certificate bearing the portrait of Martha Washington is featured. Below the Certificate are engravings from three postage stamps which honored women. The first was taken from a 5¢ issue of 1940 and honored Frances E. Willard. The center engraving is from a 3¢ denomination issued in 1948 which commemorated 100 years of progress of American women. Those pictured on this stamp are Elizabeth Stanton, Carrie C. Catt, and Lucretia Mott. The engraving on the right was taken from a 10¢ denomination issued in 1940 which honored Jane Addams.

The brochures, including souvenir card, are priced $1.25 and are limited to not more than five per person. Mail orders, accompanied by the proper remittance in the form of a check or money order payable to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing should be addressed to IWY Brochure, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D.C. 20228. Customers are requested not to send cash with their orders.

Orders should be submitted on standard letter-size sheets or the order forms provided with previous shipments. The purchaser's name, address, and ZIP code should appear on both the order form and the transmittal envelope. A self-addressed sticker will aid in expediting processing.

BAHAMAS — $50 Dollar Gold Coins

Since Bahamian currency is on par with the U.S. dollar, Americans can exchange paper money for legal-tender $50 Bahamian gold coins on a dollar-for-dollar basis. And it's all legal since the 41-year U.S. ban on ownership of modern gold coins was lifted this year.

"British Standard" purity (916.66/1000 pure gold, or 22K), combined with the image of Queen Elizabeth II, underscores for international monetary experts the legal-tender nature of this 1975 Bahamian issue. Because it is in fact money, gold coins such as these may be converted to U.S. funds at foreign currency exchange offices and many banks, or can even be spent throughout the Bahamas—by far the most enjoyable alternative.

The 17 mm. diameter coins are being minted in part by the Royal Canadian Mint, and are to be struck in both Proof and brilliant uncirculated versions. They weigh 2.73 gr. and carry the Independence date of 1973 on one side and the minting year, 1975, as part of the reverse design which features a tobacco dove.

The brilliant uncirculated coins are being released for circulation at face value and the Proof coins at $70 through Bahamian banks.

Application can be made to the stateside Official Distribution Center, 1470 NE 129th St., N. Miami, FL 33161. A $3 handling charge must accompany each $50 exchanged for the brilliant uncirculated $50 gold coins and $73 for the Proof version. The limit of single Proof coins was determined by the number of orders received by August 31, 1975. The brilliant uncirculated coins will be limited by governmental decree.

CANADA — New $2 Note Released

The sixth in the new series of Canada's currency — the two dollar denomination — was released to chartered banks of Canada Agencies across the country on August 5th, 1975. Shortly thereafter the new note became available in most chartered bank branches.

The design of the new $2 note includes the same engraved portrait of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II as appeared on the $20 and $1 notes. The scene on the back shows a group of Eskimos preparing for a hunt. The dominant color of the new note is terra cotta.

Other features of the new $2 note are similar to those of the $50, $20, $10, $5 and $1 bank notes already issued, including the Canadian coat-of-arms in color, the more extensive use of color and the higher relief of the engraved areas than in notes of the 1954 series.

The printing or publishing of likenesses of current bank notes is prohibited by Section 415 of the Criminal Code of Canada.

UNITED STATES — Bicentennial Half Dollar Released

The first of America's Bicentennial coins, the half dollar, was issued amidst the revolutionary sounds of drums and bugles on July 7 at the Minneapolis, Minn. Federal Reserve Bank. Seth Huntington, designer of the new coin, was honored in the ceremony held in the beautiful new bank plaza in Nicollet Hall.

The new Kennedy half dollar, dated 1776·1976 in place of the single issuing year, features Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Huntington chose the design because "there exists no tangible symbol which encompasses the pain and joy, struggle and the victory of the American Revolution so completely as does Independence Hall."

Along with Huntington, the ceremonies starred Mary Brooks, Director of the Mint; Bruce MacLaury, Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank president; and Truman Jeffers, president of the State Bankers Association. Bicentennial quarter designer Jack Ahr and his wife of Arlington Heights, Ill., and designer of the new dollar, Dennis Williams of Columbus, Ohio, also joined in the festivities.

Special first strike plaques were presented to the three designers by Mint Director Brooks. Each designer received his own designed coin embedded in lucite with his name appropriately engraved. Mrs. Brooks stated that "there will be no coin shortage" since 35 million quarters, 190 million half dollars and 23 million dollars had already been struck. In remarking about the new coins Mrs. Brooks said "I call these my 'people coins' because they come from the people."

Virginia Culver, ANA president, was also among the VIP guests at a luncheon hosted by Minneapolis Federal Reserve officials.

Willey Wins Top CNA Award

Robert C. Willey, Espanola, Ontario, was presented with the 1975 J. Douglas Ferguson Award at the annual convention of the Canadian Numismatic Association held in Calgary, Alberta, July 14-16. This award, established in 1969 by honorary CNA president J. Douglas Ferguson and the highest award of the Canadian Numismatic Association, is in the form of a 24 karat gold medal accompanied by a framed citation. It is presented annually to the living numismatist who has contributed most to the advancement of the science of in the relief of Eisenhower's head and truncation for better metal flow. The reverse details of the Liberty Bell and moon and the lettering on the bell have been sharpened, while the encircling lettering UNITED STATES OF AMERICA and ONE DOLLAR has been narrowed to conform in style to the lettering on the obverse.

This issue is to be released later this year.

numismatics in Canada, either through research, writing, publishing, or in any other manner.

Willey, involved in Canadian numismatics for nearly three decades, was for many years assistant editor of the Canadian Numismatic Journal and since 1967 has served as historian of the CNA. He was also secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Numismatic Research Society from the years 1964 to 1974. Willey has furthered numismatics as an author in many numismatic journals both in Canada and abroad as well as co-author of a number of books.

The magnificent gold medal was designed by the internationally known artist A. Marchetti of Montreal.

SF's Old Mint Computer

A modern computer at the historic Old Mint Museum is helping officials process thousands of incoming orders for the new U.S. bicentennial coins.

To the casual tourist strolling through the wood-paneled exhibit rooms on the first floor, the 100-year-old landmark at Fifth and Mission streets must seem an unlikely site for a sophisticated data processing facility. Just about the most modern item on display is a vintage "Millionaire" calculating machine of the type used in government offices during the early part of the century.

The "Millionaire," a calculator developed in 1893 and used by the federal government for business accounting at the turn of the century contrasts markedly from the IBM computer in the background. Both are housed at the San Francisco Mint. The "Millionaire" is a display item at Mint's museum. The modern computer, an IBM System/370 Model 155, is used by the Mint to process thousands of incoming orders for the new U.S. bicentennial coins.

But behind the brick walls in the rear of the building, a new IBM computer installation is now assisting personnel of the Mint's Special Coinage and Medals Division to serve millions of coin enthusiasts around the country. Museum visitors can communicate with the machine via two terminals equipped with typewriter-like keyboards and video screens and get a souvenir printout attesting to their visit.

Each year the Mint issues a limited number of collector-quality sets of the coins being put into general circulation. This year, in addition to the regular sets that include all six circulating coin denominations, the Mint is selling special proof and uncirculated sets consisting of just the three Bicentennial coins. The proof versions will have a content of 40 per cent silver.

To back up the formal announcement, the IBM System/370 Model 155 computer drew on a data base of 2.8 million names and addresses to produce pre-punched order cards for direct mailing to persons who had either inquired about the sets or responded to the Mint's past numismatic offerings.

The orders are processed strictly according to the sequence in which they arrive at 55 Mint Street, and the computer automatically generates a notice to the customer that his payment has been received. The computer also prints the address label that will be used to ship the sets from the San Francisco Assay Office after July 4, 1975.

Until 1964, proof set orders were processed manually at the Philadelphia Mint, and there was only one order-shipment "cycle" a year. Today, with the aid of the computer, the Mint processes a far greater volume and handles a total of nine separate cycles involving coin sets, Eisenhower dollars and various official medals.

The Old Mint building, a massive example of federal classic revival architecture, was dedicated in 1874 and survived the 1906 earthquake and fire. It was deactivated in 1937 and housed other government offices until it was vacated in 1968. A restoration program was authorized in 1972 and today the national historic landmark is open to the public. A prime attraction in the museum is a 1869 coin press on which visitors may strike their own medals of the Mint.

IAPN Meets in Scotland

The International Association of Professional Numismatists is planning to set up a permanent Counterfeits Bureau in London. This was decided at the 24th Annual General Assembly of the IAPN which was held at Edinburgh, Scotland, May 16-20. 1975. For over twelve years the IAPN Anti-Forgery Committee has co-ordinated the campaign by the numismatic trade against counterfeiters. The new Bureau is being established in order to improve the effectiveness of the fight against counterfeits; it will collect and disseminate information on counterfeits to dealers, collectors, numismatic societies and museums. It will work in close co-operation with law enforcement authorities and will seek to encourage legislation in various countries to aid the suppression of counterfeits of both modern and antique coins.

A fund guaranteeing the initial support of the project has been set-up, but additional financial and technical support will be sought. It is hoped that an appointment to the post of director will be made within the next two months and that the Bureau will be in operation well before the end of the year.

One hundred and forty-six delegates and guests representing forty-five numismatic firms from twenty-six cities and fourteen countries attended the Assembly which was held at the Caledonian Hotel in Edinburgh.

Members were received by the Lord Provost of Edinburgh accompanied by the Lady Provost (Mr. and Mrs. John Millar) at a reception held at the City Chambers on the evening they arrived. The Lord Provost inaugurated the Assembly on Saturday morning and Mr. R.B.K. Stevenson, Keeper of the National Museum of Antiquities of Scotland, also welcomed members and gave an introduction to the numismatic collection of the museum and to the exhibition of coins which had been specially prepared for the occasion.

Dr. Herbert Cahn, Chairman of the Publications Committee, announced that three numismatic books would be published by the IAPN during the coming year — a revised edition of the book on the coins of Salzburg by the late Prof. Gunter Probszt, Die Munzen Salzburgs, a new work by Rodolfo Spahr on the coins of Sicily from Roman times to the later Middle Ages, and, in conjunction with the International Numismatic Commission, the proceedings of the International Numismatic Congress held in Washington in 1973.

In addition to the business sessions members visited the National Museum of Antiquities, the bank-note collection of the Royal Bank of Scotland, and Edinburgh and Borthwick Castles. A full-day coach tour on Whit Sunday enabled members to see something of the beautiful country of central Scotland, with a visit to Loch Lomond and the Trossachs. The major social event of the Assembly was the annual banquet held at the North British Hotel at which the Lord Provost of Edinburgh and the Lady Provost were guests of honor. Other guests were: E. G. V. Newman, Chemist and Assayer of the Royal mint, and Mrs. Newman; F. L. Selfe, master of the Edinburgh Assay Office, and Mrs. Selfe; R.B.K. Stevenson, Keeper of the National Museum of Antiquities, and Mrs. Stevenson; N. Tavener, president of the Scottish Numismatic Society and Mrs. Tavener; D. McFarlan, representing the Glasgow and West of Scotland Numismatic Society, and Mrs. McFarlan; and John J. Pittman, president of the Organization of International Numismatists, from the United States.

Peter Seaby, of B. A. Seaby Ltd. of London was elected president to succeed Mr. Emile Bourgey of Paris. Senor Xavier Calico, of Barcelona, retiring vice president, a founder-member and the third president of the Association, was appointed president d'honneur. Bourgey was elected 1st vice president, and Mrs. Catherine Bullowa-Moore of Philadelphia was re-elected 2nd vice president. Michel Kampmann of Maison Platt of Paris will continue as secretary of the IAPN and will deal principally with matters of administration, and Mr. Beverly Curtis of Coins and Antiquities Ltd. of London has been appointed assistant secretary with special responsibility for membership matters.

Bicentennial Quarter Placed in Circulation

The Bicentennial circulating quarter was released by the Federal Reserve System to commercial banks beginning Monday, August 18, 1975

At the invitation of Mr. Robert P. Mayo, President of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, Mrs. Brooks participated in a public ceremony marking the issuance of the second coin redesigned in honor of our nation's 200th birthday. The ceremony was held at 12:30 p.m., August 18, 1975, at the Chicago Federal Building Plaza in Chicago, Illinois.

Jack L. Ahr, designer of the quarter reverse, is a resident of Arlington Heights, Illinois, a Chicago suburb. Ahr as well as Dennis R. Williams, sculpture student at the Columbus (Ohio) College of Art and Design and designer of the dollar reverse, and Seth G. Huntington, designer of the half dollar reverse, also participated in the national Bicentennial coinage celebration in Chicago.

The Mint expects to produce at least 300 million dollars, 550 million half dollars and 1.6 billion quarters for circulation between now and the close of the Bicentennial year. Commercial banks may order the three Bicentennial cupro-nickel circulating coins through the Federal Reserve Bank, or correspondent bank, that serves their coin needs.

Forty percent silver proof and uncirculated specimens of the Bicentennial coins are also available by mail order from the Bureau of the Mint, 55 Mint Street, San Francisco, California 94175. The three-piece silver Bicentennial proof sets are $12 per set. The silver uncirculated sets are $9 each.

"The Bicentennial coins pay tribute to a momentous occasion in our national life," Mrs. Brooks said. "They are small pieces of our historical and cultural heritage that will touch the hands of every man, woman and child in America.

In a sixteen page News Bulletin just published, The Society of Medalists reports on a wide selection of choice commemorative medals, all new or soon to be issued by a variety of organizations. Most of the medals are illustrated and interesting information about the medal's sculptors is also included.

Published annually since 1930 only for Society members, the 1975 News Bulletin is now available to all interested collectors, free upon request. Write to Mrs. Mary Louise Cram, Executive Secretary, 33 West Branch Road, Weston, Connecticut 06880.

The Society is the nation's only non-profit art medal collectors' organization dedicated to encouraging superior American artists in the tradition of medallic sculpture and making their work available to Society members.

Official New Hampshire Bicentennial Medal

The New Hampshire American Revolution Bicentennial Commission will commemorate the 200th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill with an official bicentennial medal.

The New Hampshiremen participated in every major campaign in the Revolution, except those in the Carolinas and Georgia. In 1777, when the then independent republic of Vermont asked New Hampshire for military aid, Brig. Gen. Stark responded with his troops to fight a desperate battle for Vermont's freedom.

The obverse of the medal features Gen. Stark, the last surviving American general of the Revolution who died in 1822 at age 93 at his Manchester home.

The reverse depicts the logo of the Bicentennial Commission — a colonial powder horn, carved with the emblem of the Old Man of the Mountain.

The official design for the medal obverse was created by award-winning artist Michael Lemire, of Franklin, N. H. and was based on a statue of Gen. Stark in front of the capitol in Concord, N. H. The reverse design was created by the late Alice Cosgrove, of Concord. Prominent medallic sculptor Richard Disque, of Greenwich, N. Y. prepared the models based on their designs.

Medal editions, sizes and prices are as follows: .999 fine silver, 2½ inch high relief, antique finish, limited to 5000, numbered specimens, $75; 1½ inch, pure silver, coin-relief, antique finish, limited to 7500 specimens, $20; 1½ inch antique bronze, coin-relief, $2.50 and in an edition to be determined by demand. Also available is a matched presentation set of a 2½ inch antique bronze high relief, a 1½ inch 24 kt. gold vermeil on pure silver, and a 1½ inch pure silver in a deluxe jeweler's case. The edition is limited to 5000 individually numbered sets at $55.

Individual medals are being sold by participating members of the New Hampshire Association of Savings Banks, New Hampshire Bankers Association and New Hampshire Federal Savings & Loan Association as a non-profit, public service. All of the medals and matched presentation sets are also available by mail from the official medallists, Medallic Art Company, Old Ridgebury Rd., Danbury, CT 06810. Collectors should add $2 for insurance, postage and handling for each medal or presentation set.

Hawthorne Added to Hall of Fame Series

A medal honoring Nathaniel Hawthorne, one of the first great American novelists, has been issued by the Hall of Fame for Great Americans at New York University in New York City. Hawthorne is one of sixteen famous American authors so enshrined in the Hall.

The medal was designed by Michael Lantz, an eminent sculptor and former president of the National Sculpture Society. One side of the medal bears a sensitive portrait of the novelist, the dates of his birth and death (1804-1864), his quill pen and the letter "A" — the letter the adulteress Hester Prynne was forced to wear upon her breast as punishment in Hawthorne's most famous novel, "The Scarlet Letter."

The reverse side contains a beautiful collage of scenes illustrating Hawthorne's life and most famous works. In the center are the figures of Hester Prynne and Arthur Dimmesdale, the chief protagonists of "The Scarlet Letter." Surrounding this central scene are a satyr, from the novel "The Marble Faun"; the Grey Champion, James II; the famous House of the Seven Gables; and the seaport and judges of early Salem, Massachusetts, Hawthorne's birthplace.

The medal was struck by the Medallic Art Company in silver and bronze editions. Bronze medals are available in a 3 inch size at $12.50 and in a 1 3/4 inch version at $5. Medals of .999 fine silver are 1 3/4 inches in size and sell for $37.50. The silver medals are serially numbered and limited in issue to only 7,500 pieces.

The medal, the ninty-second in the continuing Hall of Fame series, is available at the coin departments of leading department stores throughout the country, or may be ordered direct from the distributor: The Coin & Currency Institute, Inc., 393 Seventh Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001. Add 75¢ for shipping and handling. Part of the proceeds from the sale of the medal goes to support the work of the Hall of Fame.

The Value of an Ox

Mr. Don Kagin, in his very interesting article "A Survey of the Origins of Coinage" (The Numismatist, July, 1975) speaks of "a little pellet ... weighing about 8.5 grams — the price of an ox" (page 1460, column 2). A gold shekel, he notes "was equal in weight to 8.34 grams."

In the same paragraph, Mr. Kagin says that a reference in Homer's Odyssey indicates that an ox is worth a talent, and in the next paragraph he repeats "since the talent represented the value of an ox" etc.

A talent was equal to about 3000 shekels, so it weighed something over 25,000 grams.

Was an ox worth 25,000 grams of gold, or 8.34 grams of gold? At $35 an ounce this is a choice between $28,125 and $9.38, and at $160 an ounce, between $128,603 and $43.

Which comes closer to the current value of an ox?

Philadelphia Issues Bicentennial Medal by Gasparro

Philadelphia '76, Inc., the Bicentennial commission for the nation's birthplace, will commemorate the 200th anniversary of the Second Continental Congress with the release of the official Philadelphia bicentennial medal.

The limited edition medal was sculpted by Frank Gasparro, a native of Philadelphia, who also created the Eisenhower dollar, the original reverse of the Kennedy half dollar, and the Lincoln Memorial on the reverse of the penny. He is also the sculptor of all of the current coinage of the Philippines and various denominations for Cuba, Guatemala and Haiti.

Sculptor Frank Gasparro applies finishing touches to the reverse plaster model of the official Philadelphia bicentennial medal.

The medal obverse depicts a 70-year-old Benjamin Franklin as he might have appeared during his days as a delegate to the Second Continental Congress. The portrait of Franklin was based on Gasparro's extensive research of sculpture and paintings by 18th century American and European artists as well as Gasparro's own life-size limestone statue of the great statesman, completed in 1942 for Philadelphia's Benjamin Franklin High School. To the left of Franklin's portrait is Philadelphia's Liberty Bell, international symbol of freedom. Completing the design is a border of 13 stars, representing the original colonies.

The reverse features a stylized American eagle, holding an olive branch, superimposed on Independence Hall, site of the Second Continental Congress and the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, Articles of Confederation and the Constitution.

Issued in 18 kt. gold, .999 fine silver and antique bronze, the medals sizes, prices and limitations are as follows: 1 inch, high relief, gold, $250 and limited to 1000 numbered specimens; 2½ inch, silver, antique, $75, 5000 numbered pieces; 1½ inch, silver, proof, $25, 10,000 numbered; 2½ inch, high relief, bronze, $12.50, numbered, and a 1½ inch, coin-relief, bronze, $2.50, these latter two editions limited by reservations through Dec. 31, 1976. The gold edition includes a display presentation case and a certificate of authenticity personally signed by Gasparro.

Individual medals are being sold in the Philadelphia area by commercial banks and savings associations as a non-profit, public service. All of the medals are also available by mail from the official medalists, Medallic Art Company, Old Ridgebury Road, Danbury, CT 06810. Collectors ordering by mail should add $1.50 for insurance, postage and handling for each medal ordered.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

The Numismatist cordially presents the following guidelines as encouragement for interested authors (both professional and non-professional) who are preparing manuscripts for submission to the official ANA journal.

All authors whose manuscripts are accepted and published are eligible for Heath Literary Awards. These are awarded annually for articles judged to be outstanding. First and second places include engraved medals as well as cash stipends: a silver medal and $250 for first and a bronze medal and $100 for second. Third place awards are bronze medals. Those writers receiving honorable mention are awarded certificates of recognition.

The author receives two copies of the issue in which his article appears and eight individual article copies.

MANUSCRIPTS

The Numismatist accepts manuscripts which contain new information, constitute a distinct contribution to knowledge and are relevent to the science of numismatics. The author is responsible for all statements made in the work. Manuscripts accepted and published become the property and copyright of The Numismatist and may not be published elsewhere unless written permission is granted by both the author and the journal. Manuscripts are received with the understanding they are not simultaneously being considered by other publications.

Two complete manuscripts (the original and one copy) including illustrations (all material which cannot be set in type such as photographs, drawings and graphs) should be sent to EDITOR, The Numismatist, American Numismatic Association, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901. For correspondence purposes the author should retain at least one copy.

The manuscript should be typewritten, double-spaced on one side of 8 1/2 x 11 heavy white bond paper with 1 1/2 inch margins at the top and left. The name(s), full postal address(es) and daytime telephone number (s) of the author(s) must appear on the first page.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Illustrations should be referred to in the text as Figs., and be given Arabic numbers. The back of each should be marked with the name(s) of the author(s) and the title of the article. An arrow should mark the top orientation of the illustration with each figure bearing a reference number corresponding to the same number in the text. Each illustration should be accompanied by a legend with all legends and reference numbers typed and grouped on a separate sheet of paper. All illustrative material should be protected with hard-board covers when mailed.

Photographs are to be unmounted and unattached to the manuscript. They should be high quality, glossy prints which are not retouched or labeled in any way on the face of the photograph. (When marking on the back, write on a hard surface such as glass or metal to avoid disfiguring the photographic surface.)

Drawings should be on separate sheets, drawn with India ink on illustration board or high grade drawing paper.

The editorial staff reserves the right to edit all material to conform with the journal's style and policy.

AUTHOR'S BIOGRAPHY

A biographical sketch of the author(s), which may be published with an accepted manuscript, is to be submitted also. It is not to exceed 100 words and should include such pertinent information as place and date of birth, educational and professional experience, hobby interests and numismatic awards and accomplishments. A photo, suitable for publication (a glossy portrait rather than snapshot), should accompany this information.

REFERENCES

Only sources closely related to the author's work should be quoted; exhaustive lists should be avoided. Accuracy is important. The suggested guide for reference preparation is The MLA Style Sheet (a Modern Languages Association publication) in which the following are basic examples for first references to books and periodicals:

[1] Robert Andrew Glindinning Carson, Coins of the World (New York: Harper & Brothers, 1962), p. 347.
[2] Allan Sutherland, "Scottish Coins and Emblems," The Numismatist, 51 (1938), 193.

Subsequent references to the same works can be made by citing only author and page number:

If more than one work by the same author has been quoted, a brief title and page number are sufficient:

This information is offered in the spirit of aiding prospective authors prepare a more professional manuscript, thus assuring The Numismatist of a greater volume of publication-ready, editorial material.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

THE PURPOSE OF THIS MESSAGE IS TO TELL YOU OF THE VERY REAL POSSIBILITY OF MAKING HUGE PROFITS IN RARE COIN INVESTMENTS, AND EXACTLY WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT IT.

Just like the heading says, there is a very real possibility you can make huge profits in rare coin investment. The developments of the past few months point strongly toward the dawn of a new market, a market with quality as a focal point. As we at New England Rare Coin Galleries have always emphasized quality, the investors who have listened to us in the past are in an enviable position. But it is not too late; it is only the beginning. The scarcity of quality coins, the desirability of quality coins, the easy resalability of quality coins — these factors are by themselves an assurance of a sound investment. However, there is more — much more.

First of all, the economy is rebounding. The people who think a strong upturn will not occur till the fall of 1975 are considered dour pessimists. A strong economy will help the coin business, of course, but the coin market is already flexing its muscles in most areas.

Secondly, there is a probability that large sums of money are ready to be put into the coin market. These large sums could turn prices of rare coins into astronomical figures. There just aren't that many quality coins around. Where will these sums come from? Several mutual funds have been proposed (modified to meet S.E.C. regulations, of course) that could provide tremendous purchasing power. In addition, there are several collections being formed today which could virtually dry up the availability of many scarce issues. There is also the possibility of the "noveau rich" in oil, coal and other energy related industries coming into the market. These are not pipe dreams. It has been estimated by one economist that if the amount of money traded in ONE DAY in the stock market were put into coins, the prices of all issues would increase an average of FIVE FOLD!

Thirdly, and importantly, there are the "insider's" feeling about the market. As professionals, we can gauge the strength of the market as no outside observer can. In the past two months, we have sold more expensive coins (over $5,000) than in the six months previous to that. Even in a billion dollar industry, a sale of this magnitude is significant — people with this kind of money to spend have a REASON for putting it into the coin market.

It is important to remember one cold hard fact, however. Even WITHOUT the outside forces listed above helping the market along, coins were the NUMBER ONE investment medium in both 1973 and 1974.

Where do you go to invest your money in rare coins? But is it really important WHERE you go to purchase coins? You bet it is!

We recently went to look at a collection assembled two years ago by a woman whose intent had been to build a strong investment portfolio. The issues she chose were wise and sound — rare colonial coins, nice type coins and gold coins of top quality, (or so the inventory list said). Even though we recommend holding coins for a minimum of three years, the issues she had chosen had increased so dramatically that we felt we could still pay her a nice profit. Instead, our offer only came to about 40% of her cost! The "uncirculated" coins were in many cases re-colored and artificially treated coins which were only worth a fraction of what she had paid. And when the coins were accurately graded, the prices weren't picked from numismatic publications but perhaps at random from the phone book. It seems we were the second dealer who had looked at the collection, and the first had conveyed the same bad news. One coin in the collection stands out. She had purchased an 1898 Proof Quarter Eagle for $3,200. This was a "good deal", she was told, because New England Rare Coin Galleries advertised them at $3,500. However, the fact that her coin was covered with hairlines, digs and scratches WASN'T mentioned. Both the first dealer and the second (us) offered $400 for the coin! The collector who purchased our "more expensive" coin has a top quality GEM and considers it the highlight of his collection. When we say to consider quality when you consider price we aren't just paying lip service to a tired cliche'. Quality is of the UTMOST IMPORTANCE when buying rare coins. At New England Rare Coin Galleries we pride ourselves on delivering the best value for the dollar spent. Our "high" prices always pay off for YOU in the end.

Many investors have encountered problems ordering investment packages from other dealers — problems they would never encounter at N.E.R.C.G. For instance, one investor ordered from several companies and the following happened. From company #1 he received a gold commemorative at the "wholesale" price. Had the coin been accurately graded, it would indeed have been a fair price. However, the coin was overgraded a full grade and was only worth about 60% of the asking price. From company #2, he received 2 modern common coins which were accurately graded but overpriced a full 35%. While it is difficult to put an exact value on rare coins, these coins were such that an exact value could be placed, as they were a modern issue. Anyone could purchase one or one hundred of these coins at 35% less. From company #3 he received nothing. Not until four months and three letters of inquiry later did he finally receive any coins at all! A neat story which serves our purpose, admittedly, but also a true story, as a member of our staff was the "investor" involved. None of these things would ever happen with a N.E.R.C.G. investment package. First of all, each coin is accurately graded personally by company president, Jim Halperin. Secondly, the coin is priced, fairly and competitively, but with the accurate grade taken fully into account. Finally, when your check is received, your coins are shipped promptly. Always. There are no exceptions.

When the coin investor is ready to sell, there are many avenues open to him. If he wishes to sell the coins to us, or through us, we offer our own auction service. New England Rare Coin Auction. A private treaty sale can also be arranged where we will sell the coins for him for a small commission. Or, if he prefers, we will purchase the coins outright for cash. Buying or selling, the customer is always treated fairly at New England Rare Coin Galleries, and we strive to give him exactly what he wants.

The services New England Rare Coin Galleries offers are many, as complete as possible, and we are one of the few rare coincompanies which offers coin investments applicable to the Keogh Act, which provides our customers with a sizable tax advantage. In addition, profit-sharing and pension plans are eligible for funding with rare coins. Investors large and small have the best chance at sizable profits in rare coin investments when they deal with us, as we provide our customers with every possible aid.

No name in numismatics is more respected than New England Rare Coin Galleries. This reputation has been built on accurate grading, fair, realistic prices, excellent service, and overall high business ethics. We have become "the company to see" when seeking rare and choice coins, and our success has been not only in New England, but nationwide.

From an investment standpoint, our customers have excellent success in their investments. Our investment recommendations have far outpaced the coin market in total percentage gains!

In addition, in our lump sum program we provide you with background information on each coin so you know precisely what you have purchased. An explanation of grading (with reference to any special characteristics of this particular coin, such as striking, etc.) and the reason for pricing the coin the way it was priced are also provided.

We also pride ourselves on our expertise in authenticating rare coins. This is very important, as there are many counterfeit coins which we can easily detect because of the characteristics, color, strike, and surfaces — characteristics which can only be spotted by an experienced student of numismatics. Members of our staff are frequently consulted by museums, government agencies, and other dealers for assistance in coin authentication. Every coin sold by New England Rare Coin Galleries carries a lifetime guarantee of authenticity.

Many of our investors have ordered from us for years, and have shown excellent to amazing profits. We value these customers greatly, and we are happy to say many have told us we are equally valued by them for our counseling and for the high quality and value in rare coins that they have received. The world of numismatic investment awaits you, and New England Rare Coin Gallereis would be glad to show you how we can help.

We now have two plans available:

First, our lump-sum investment plan (minimum order: $500). These packages are tailormade to your investment needs, and are assembled with the idea of affording you the best possible return based on the expected holding period. Each coin in your investment package will be individually priced, and any single coin or coins may be returned within 10 days, for any reason, (or for no reason at all).

Second, by popular demand, we have instituted a monthly investment program (minimum order: $100 per month). This is for the investor who wishes to invest in rare coins on a regular basis. We can help you build a beautiful and worthwhile portfolio over a period of years. Naturally, there is no obligation on your part at any time, and you may discontinue investing at any time for any reason. Of course, any coin may be returned with 10 days for a full refund.

If you would like to begin, please fill in the order form on the next page and mail it to us with your check. We will immediately assemble your investment package and mail it to you for your approval.

YOUR SATISFACTION IS ALWAYS GUARANTEED

Let James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers tell you why . . .

When Great Collections Are Sold . . . The American Auction Association Sells Them!

Two of our recent auction sales

Join the ranks of delighted collectors who have profited greatly from past American Auction Association sales—consign YOUR valuable coins, currency, tokens, and medals to our next spectacular sale.

Catalogues of the finest quality have highlighted the collections of such prominent numismatists as Armand Champa (who wrote to tell us that the prices realized NEARLY DOUBLED all other offers he received for his collection), Robert Marks, Dr. W. E. Caldwell, George A. Merriweather, Matt Rothert (distinguished past president of the ANA), Stanislaw Herstal, Dr. Curtis R. Paxman, and Henry J. Nagorka—not to mention the many hundreds of consignors who wished to remain anonymous while reaping the advantages of American Auction Association cataloguing.

WHY SELECT THE AMERICAN AUCTION ASSOCIATION?

Because James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers offer you the finest auction service in the rare coin field today! Consider these advantages that a combined public and mail-bid auction conducted by the American Auction Association offers you:

THE BEST POSSIBLE PRICE. Public attendance plus spirited mail bidding from our mailing list of the most active buyers in numismatics will combine to produce the highest possible prices for your coins—the best RESULTS obtainable.

EXPERT CATALOGUING by James F. Ruddy, Q. David Bowers, and the other professional numismatists on the large staff of Bowers and Ruddy Galleries is yours. You get the experience of our having handled untold millions of dollars' worth of choice United States coins and coins of the world—including many of the finest collections sold in America and Europe in recent decades.

A MAGNIFICENT CATALOGUE will present your collection to the best possible advantage. Important pieces will be illustrated with excellent, detailed photographs right next to the lots. The illustrations, layout, typography, and numismatic descriptions will make the catalogue featuring your coins a standard reference for years to come. Past American Auction Association catalogues have already become collectors' items. What better way to preserve the collection which you have put together! (If you prefer, of course, we will keep your identity strictly confidential.)

INSTANT CASH ADVANCES are available. Generous advances against the amount to be realized by your collection can be yours just as soon as you have consigned your coins to us. So the short wait until the auction is held will not delay receipt of the cash you may need right now!

COMPLETE PROTECTION is guaranteed while we hold your coins for auction. Coins are kept securely in our bank vaults, and are completely insured from the moment we receive them.

REFERENCES: The American Auction Association enjoys all of the advantages and resources of Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, Inc., a subsidiary of General Mills. Vast financial resources enable us to produce excellent sale catalogues, to advertise widely, and to "cut no corners" in giving you the finest possible service. James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers are life members of the American Numismatic Association, and are members of the Professional Numismatists Guild (Mr. Ruddy is a recipient of the PNG's Distinguished Service Award, and Mr. Bowers is a director of the PNG), the International Association of Professional Numismatists, the American Numismatic Society, the Royal Numismatic Society of London, and other leading organizations worldwide.

NOW ACCEPTING CONSIGNMENTS

An American Auction Association sale is the IDEAL PLACE to turn your numismatic holdings into cash! Contact us now to include your coins in our next sale. If you have $2,000 or more worth of quality coins and currency of the United States, and/or choice or rare coins, tokens, or medals of the world, YOUR consignment is very much wanted. Call us collect, drop us a line asking for auction information (with a brief description of the coins you wish to consign), or send your holdings via registered mail. Including a choice selection of coins from the Dr. Alfred Globus collection and the Rear Admiral O. H. Dodson collection.

Superior Stamp & Coin Co., Inc. is most proud and happy to announce that we have been selected to conduct the 1975 A.N.A. auction which will be held in Los Angeles, California August 19th. - August 23rd.

SELECT CONSIGNMENTS NOW BEING ACCEPTED

FOR THE NUMISMATIC "EVENT OF THE YEAR"

Being awarded the A.N.A. Convention auction is like winning the World Series, or the Kentucky Derby, or the Super Bowl. It is the single, most prestigious numismatic event during any given year. It is attended by more people, from more countries, (with more money), than any other local, regional, or national coin show in the world.

Every dealer worth his salt, every major collector, specialist, speculator, and investor lists this convention as a MUST on his itinerary. A conservative estimate is that over 20,000 people will amble up and down the aisles during this five day event. It's the Rose Bowl Game for the coin industry . . . and because of SUPERIOR'S proven record in merchandising rare coins, because of our expert cataloging and exclusive mailing lists, and because of our professionalism; the Directors of the A.N.A. have rewarded our contributions to the numismatic profession by allowing us to conduct the auction at the 1975 A.N.A. Convention.

NOW IS THE IDEAL TIME TO CONSIGN OR SELL YOUR COINS

Believe us, the time to sell is NOW. The old economic principle of "Supply and Demand" assures you top prices. YOUR RARE COINS SHOULD REALIZE MORE MONEY AT THIS IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE THAN AT ANY PREVIOUS TIME IN HISTORY. Do not be so naive as to assume that coins will continue to appreciate forever. Coins are subject to the same economic principles as other markets. The same rules apply. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE COIN MARKET NOW!

This sale is almost half-filled already, some of the highlights are as follows:

1. A magnificent group of mint state U.S. Colonial coins from the Dr. Alfred Globus collections plus many more superb U.S. and foreign gold coins.
2. A fabulous run of U.S. gold coins, including all early types.
3. The Portman Collection—a complete Type Set of U.S. coinage, mostly in mint state.
4. A vast assortment of rare Greek and Roman gold and silver coins, including specimens from the Rear Admiral O. H. Dodson collection.

Superior will put all of it's energies and resources together to produce one of the finest auctions ever conducted for an A.N.A. sale. So, you have everything working for you. The timing is perfect. Never has the demand been greater for your coins. We need your collection. You can consign them to us for inclusion in the A.N.A. auction, or if you prefer we will purchase them outright. Either way, suit yourself, but we seriously suggest that you make your move. NOW IS THE TIME TO SELL!

If you want to consign your coins, or collection to this important sale, please contact Larry or Ira Goldberg immediately. Committments are being made now. Reap the rewards that this auction will provide --- top prices for choice consignments. If necessary, one of us will meet with you personally to discuss your numismatic future for 1975. Superior Stamp and Coin Co., Inc. is the numismatic house to handle your coins during 1975. Plan to include your coins in the forthcoming, 1975 A.N.A. auction slae. This monumental, well-attended, record-breaking event will make numismatic history. Act now while we are still accepting choice consignments

(PLEASE DO NOT SHIP COINS --- CONTACT US FIRST)

As suppliers to many major investors and important coin collectors we are in constant need of fresh stock.

We are prepared to pay above market for the strictly-graded coins our clients need. All offerings will be studied, but these are what we are actively seeking now.

- Early U.S. flowing hair type coins, copper and silver, 1793 to 1807. All grades, but higher quality preferred.
- All U.S. coins 1808 to 1891; gold, silver or copper in XF and better condition.
- All rare Morgan and Peace dollars, preferably BU.
- All seated Liberty silver coins, in Uncirc. or Proof.
- All 1794 to 1873 silver dollars, all grades, especially Uncirc. and Proof.
- All BU and Proof trade dollars.
- All rare gold coins, especially 1795 to 1829.
- All Carson City, Charlotte and Dahlonega gold.

Additionally, we have an active market in Scarce and Choice Paper Money, U.S. gold pieces of $1.00, $2.50 Classic, $3.00, $5.00 Classic, $5.00 Lib (n/m) $10.00 Lib (n/m) and $20.00 Lib (l).

We also seek Half Cents, Large Cents, Flying Eagle Cents, Copper Nickel Cent (1859) Three Cent Pieces, Silver (II), Shield Nickelt, Half Dimes, Flowing Hair 1794/95, Half Dimes Dr. Bust (lg. eagle) 1800/05, S.L. Half Dimes (no stars), S.L. Half Dimes (stars obv.) and S.L. Half Dimes (arrows).

To get what we want for our demanding and growing list of clients we will pay well above the market guide, immediately. For prompt action we will pay well above the market guide, immediately.

Three Advantages To You

1. Check or cash for you immediately. Upon receipt a check will be sent to you by return mail, which you may either accept or refuse. Or we can pay in actual cash, "green money"; or any way you wish. But pack your coins securely and forward them to us by U. S. Mail, or REA. Be sure to insure or register adequately.

2. We will travel, or pay your fare to New York. For coins or collections of special interest we will visit you, or pay your fare to New York if we agree on an acceptable trade. For details, call Tim LaPointe at the number shown below.

3. We pay postage and shipping both ways. We will include the full cost of forwarding your coins to us in our offer. If you decline our offer we will return your coins postpaid, with an additional check for all shipping costs you may have incurred.

Our monthly price list is available FREE upon request.

We can pay you premium prices because – we need your Gold Coins.

we need your Silver Dollars.

and we can use your type coins and discards, too!

Elsewhere, according to the news, business is bad.

Here at Old Roman, it is tremendous.

This is why we need your coins, and are prepared to pay consistently high dollars to get them.

Our customers now number in the thousands, and range from juniors who collect novelties to serious collectors, who may specialize in rare gold coins.

We are currently paying 10% above the Bid Price for all CIRC. Type coins in Strict XF, as per latest Coin Dealer Newsletter listings.

If you are disposing of an entire collection, or just want to take a good profit now on part of your holdings, we are the people to call.

Our customers are pressing us, and we must meet their demands. So we urge you to take advantage of this opportunity.

Just about everything you have is of genuine interest to us.

Read our three-point program below.

* We are currently paying 10% above the bid price for all Circ. type coins in strict XF as per latest COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER listings.

Check our credit references, if you wish, with The First National Bank of Glen Head, N. Y.

But call or write us today. Ask for Tim LaPointe, and you will get prompt and courteous attention.

MORE ON OUR NATIONWIDE BUYING SERVICE

The success of our nationwide buying service was entirely contingent upon you-and you have made it successful. From Maine to Hawaii, we have received countless collections to buy. In the two years since the beginning of our nationwide buying service, we have purchased 87.4% of these collections. This has enabled us to expand our retail sales, but even more important, it has instituted a rational, reasonable, and secure way for you to sell your collection. To those of you who have sold us material, we pledge our continued fair and upright dealings. For those of you that we have not yet met, we urge you to take advantage of our nationwide buying service.

Here is what we are able to provide:

1. Unlimited instant cash (confidential, of course, if you wish).
2. Bank references available. (Contact Mr. Bill Whitsitt at Citizens National Bank, 2001 Bryan Tower, Dallas, or Mr. Steve Parker, Texas Bank & Trust, One Main Place, Dallas.)
3. Call us collect at (214) 748-4044 or (214) 748-4045 if you desire to sell a large collection, or you may ship your collection with invoice to Mike Follett Rare Coins, Plaza Level, One Main Place, Dallas, Texas 75250. Within 24 to 48 hours, you will receive our generous offer by return mail.
   Should you decide not to sell your collection, we will return your coins immediately upon hearing from you. Naturally, the coins will be fully insured and we will pay all postage. As mentioned above, 87.4% of those who have sent us coins in this manner have sold their collection. Through this method, you risk absolutely nothing.
4. Should you have an extremely large collection, we can and will be at your home, office, or bank anywhere in the U.S.A. within 24 hours of your call.
5. We are prepared to buy your entire collection, not just the choice material.
6. You are selling to a coin retailer, not someone who sells to another dealer. This is so important. Consequently, you will receive the highest possible price.
7. The company you will be dealing with is known and respected througout the numismatic world. Backed with 13 years of experience in buying, selling, and grading coins, Mike Follett Rare Coins has established itself as a leader in the numismatic fraternity. Your coins will be inspected by either Mike Follett or Don Willis. Mr. Willis, formerly of Marlow, Oklahoma, is also widely known for his knowledge of numismatics. He is a member of the P.N.G., T.N.A., and A.N.A. It is with great pride that we welcome him in our organization in order that we may be better able to serve you.

We are in particular need of the following numismatic items: all choice type material, early bust dollars and quarters in any grade, all key and semi-key coins with a wholesale value of $10 or more, scarce and rare dates in seated quarters or halves, and all U.S.A. and foreign gold — both rare and common. As we have marketed 19 coins with retail value of over $25,000 each during the last twelve months, we desperately need rare and unique material.

To conclude, take advantage of our policy. It is a service that thousands of satisfied customers have found profitable and safe. We sincerely believe that we can go further in meeting your individual needs than any other buying program offered today.

WANTED

America's best buyer of Rare coins urgently needs your collection!

As one of America's foremost Rare Coin firms the demands on our inventory are extensive, requiring us to purchase Choice and Rare Coins at an ever expanding rate.

We Want To Buy: Your entire collection is urgently needed no matter what the size, if it contains the items we are looking for. Generally we are interested in any collection which contains Choice and Rare coins and early U. S. coins in AU or better condition.

Individual Coins: We are sincerely interested in individual sets and single coins as well as complete collections. We are particularly interested in worthwhile numismatic items that retail over $10.00 each. Our needs range from Colonials thru Gold including rare dates as well as more common dates in Choice condition.

Selling to US: You will find that selling to our Rare Coin Galleries is easy and safe. Here is all you do — Package your coins carefully and send them to us by insured or registered mail. Immediately upon receipt of your coins David Bland, Jr., will personally examine your coins and send you our generous offer in the form of a confidential insured check. Upon receipt of our offer you can notify us of your decision to sell (nearly every one of the thousands of offers we have made over the past decade has been accepted). If for any reason you decide not to sell, your coins will be returned to you by insured mail at our expense. If your collection is too large to mail please send an itemized inventory to the attention of David Bland, Jr., and we will travel to you if the size of the collection warrants it.

You Will Receive More For Your Coins: Because our needs are so great at this time we will pay more than any other major dealer in the U. S. Why not sell to us as thousands of other satisfied collectors have.

For references you may apply to any numismatic publication or numismatic organization. We are members of: The American Numismatic Association (Mr. Bland is Life Member 677); Professional Numismatists Guild; Texas Numismatic Association; etc.

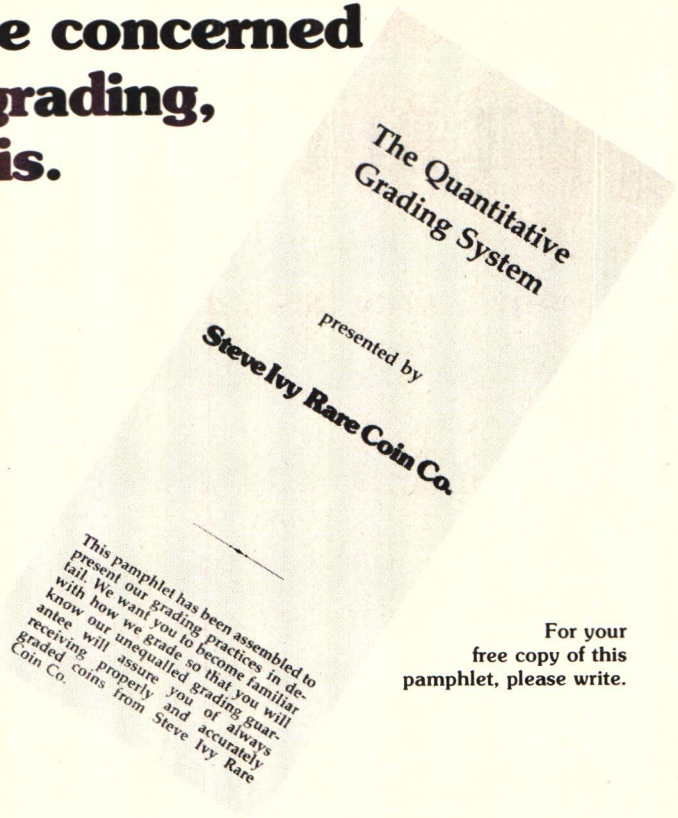
If you're concerned about grading, read this.



For your free copy of this pamphlet, please write.

We're concerned about the grading of our coins. That's why we have published the pamphlet "The Quantitative Grading System". In it, we tell how we grade our coins using the modified Sheldon scale. From Poor (1) to Gem BU (70), this pamphlet describes the aspects of grading by using both the conventional letter grade and a corresponding Sheldon number. In addition, we have included some important facts about luster, strike, cleaning, and toning as each relate to the grade of a coin.

OUR GUARANTEE

Any coin purchased from Steve Ivy Rare Coin Co., after May 1, 1975, will adhere to the standards of the ANA Grading Board. If not, the full purchase price will be refunded to the original purchaser within 30 days of the decision by the Grading Board.*

This applies to the grade itself and not to the degrees within that particular grade (i.e., AU(50) vs. Ch. AU(55)). This allows for legitimate differences of opinion. Steve Ivy Rare Coin Co. retains the option of refunding your money or replacing with a suitable coin.*

Because grading is the single most important factor in coin buying today, we have also introduced our grading guarantee. This guarantee means that when you buy from us, you buy with confidence.

At Steve Ivy Rare Coin Co., we're concerned about grading, and we're doing something about it.

"The source of Wisdom in coin selecting"

START COLLECTING ANCIENTS . . . . AND START RIGHT!

This is a SPECIAL OFFER. But first, let me tell you what kind of special offer it is NOT; i.e., that kind where you are offered a "genuine ancient coin over two thousand years old for only $5.00". I do not mean to knock such an offer, as you do get your money's worth, but simply to illustrate that this is definitely not that kind of offering.

Some knowledge of the field is necessary to collect intelligently, and there is one book, "Selections From The Numismatist on Ancient Coins", which, along with the catalogue, "Roman Coins and Their Values", latest edition, can make you a knowledgable collector in the time it takes you to read the book. I have started a large number of collectors on their way with that very book; it is a proven success. The catalogue, like the U.S. Red Book, is indispensable, not just for values, but for the thousands of aids contained therein.

These two books cost $5.00 and $11.00 respectively, and since most collectors are so anxious to get started with the coins, they often put off the purchase of the books; and this can be a disastrous mistake. For that reason I am combining, in this offer, the two books with three coins of different Roman Emperors. And this is the most important part of the offer, because the three coins will be in the highest grade available, Extremely Fine; coins that would not always be purchased by a beginner who wishes to accumulate as many Emperors as he can right away. These are the coins that an experienced collector, putting together a quality series of Roman Emperor portrait coins, would be proud to own.

This Special Offer will be open for as long as our supply of these high grade coins last, after which the price will be raised in accordance with the higher prices we must pay to augment our supply.

So order this Special Offer right now for just $75.00

A RARITY IS A RARITY IS A RARITY

In recent years, private mints have touted many modern medals as being "rare". Indeed, someone could go into their workshop and create the ultimate rarity-a unique medal. But the yardstick of rarity is few surviving examples and demand.

As Coin World led off a recent editorial, "Rarities make numismatists and numismatics go 'round".

The values of the coins listed below have been established and documented over the years at major auctions and private sales.

This is your opportunity to add your name to the pedigree of an important numismatic artifact.

United States Silver Coinage

1796 Dime. Nice Uncirculated. Obverse adjustment marks. A beautiful fully struck specimen with obverse die chip at seven o'clock. Although Brilliant, delicate golden toning beginning around stars. First year of issue and worth 2 to 3 times our asking price without the adjustment marks. Perfect for your type set $3250.00

1805 Dime. Draped Bust type. Well centered and nicely struck. Light golden toning. Extremely Fine — Almost Uncirculated $1250.00

Another, this one a bit nicer. Original lustre turning to an attractive gray and golden frosty appearance. Many would call uncirculated. We conservatively grade this piece Choice Almost Uncirculated $1495.00

1818 Quarter. Large Bust variety. Fairly common in lower grades, this type becomes amazingly difficult in grades above Very Fine. This coin is Almost Uncirculated with some golden toning around the devices $1000.00

1807 Half Dollar. Choice Uncirculated. Full original mint lustre and perfectly centered. Beautiful golden toning on both obverse and reverse. Eagle's breast feathers are sharp. This type is exceedingly rare in mint state. $3895.00

1800 Dollar. B-19. Almost Uncirculated. Surfaces dull steel gray in color and free of any marks. Quite a nice type coin! $1995.00

1801 Dollar. Nice grayish golden toning — full original lustre. Only minor rubbing keeps this in the Almost Uncirculated class $2600.00

1864 Dollar. No Motto type. Mintage only 470 for this Proof. Certianly a hands down favorite for those who appreciate rarity and value $1195.00

1889-CC Dollar. Borderline Uncirculated with Prooflike tendancies $1200.00

1892-S Dollar. Almost Uncirculated (50+). A key date that is priced to sell. $1950.00

Another piece (MS-60), though weak breast. Very rare. $4500.00

A third, this one by far the nicest. Identical to a piece (MS-60-65) which recently sold to a dealer in excess of five figures. Ours should be a good buy at only $7995.00

1895-S Mint State-60. Another key date in the Morgan series $1300.00

1901 The rare Philadelphia mint issue. Long considered rare in Mint State and probably the rarest in Proof=Like! This piece goes a step further by being GEM BU (MS-65-70)! A true museum piece and a highlight to anyone's collection. $1895.00

1903-S We are fortunate to own a pair of this rare date in Choice BU condition. One piece is Brilliant, the other has light golden toning. Make your selection at $1495.00

1874 Trade Dollar. Sharp Proof with light blue toning. One of the scarcer Proof issues $1200.00

1876 Trade Dollar. Rather deeply toned but not taking away from the brilliance of this Choice Proof $1300.00

1877 Proof, slight hairlining. Exceptionally attractive frost giving the coin a full cameo effect. Very Rare date $995.00

1878 Trade Dollar. Choice Proof, reverse devices frosted $1300.00

1878-CC Trade Dollar. Almost Uncirculated. Rarest date of series and exceptionally scarce, even close to uncirculated . $1300.00

1880 Trade Dollar. Choice Proof (Mintage of 1,987). Beautifully frosted with light golden toning. No circulation strikes this year $1350.00

1882 Trade Dollar. Choice Proof. Nice irridescent original toning. Superb except for small mark above knee. Another Proof only year $1250.00

1807 $2½. Draped Bust Type. A pleasing Almost Uncirculated example of this highly sought after type. Rare in any grade, especially so this nice $4750.00

1833 $2½. Early Turban Type. Another popular but very difficult to locate type. Our piece is Extremely Fine (40). Though shows obvious wear, coin is well centered and nicely struck $2000.00

1859 $3. Brilliant Uncirculated, lowest hair curl a little weak due to strike. Overall, an above average Mint Sale piece. (Mintage: 15,638) $1900.00

1873 $3. First restrike. Choice Almost Uncirculated, Prooflike fields. One of the highest grade pieces we have incountered or seen for that matter. Rare in any grade, we offer ours at only $4250.00

The Numismatic Gallery Auction Assoc., a division of The Numismatic Gallery, Inc., is pleased to announce that we will be conducting regularly scheduled bi-monthly Public Mail Bid Auctions featuring high quality and rare United States type coins, patterns and colonial issues.

NOW:

Our first mail bid only auction closes September 15, 1975. Send $1.00 for this professionally prepared catalog and prices realized list. (It may someday be as famous as the 1890 Parmelee Auction Catalog!)

FUTURE:

Consignments are currently being accepted for our July-August Mail Bid Auction. If you are considering selling part or all of your collection, please telephone or write to us for full details and contract terms. Our commission fee is both competitive and reasonable, ranging from 10 to 15 percent, dependent upon the size and value of your consignment to us.

We are members of the American Numismatic Association, The American Numismatic Society and other numismatic organizations. Your coins will be expertly described and presented in a professionally prepared, high quality catalog. Further, our extensive pre-auction advertising in the Numismatist, Coin World and other numismatic publications helps ensure that your coins will sell at the "Best Price Possible" in today's strong rare coin market.

Presenting Presidential Art's original

APOLLO-SOYUZ
Art Medal

commemorating "mankind's 2nd giant step in space"

Presidential Art Medals, Inc.
300 W. National Road, Vandalia, Ohio 45377

In keeping with our tradition as the leader in issuing high quality Art Medals commemorating America's space flights; PRESIDENTIAL ART MEDALS, INC., proudly present an original APOLLO-SOYUZ Art Medal. Officially named the Apollo-Soyuz Test Project, this mission ranks as one of the world's greatest moments in space because it paves the way for future cooperative scientific missions and it will establish international crew rescue capabilities in space.

This beautiful medal symbolizes the combined efforts of the United States and the Soviet Union. The obverse design depicts the American and Russian space pioneers, both well known as the fathers of rocketry. Behind their portraits are figures of an American astronaut and Russian cosmonaut shaking hands. The reverse side of this high relief medal shows the Apollo and Soyuz spacecrafts in docking position with the lower edge of the earth and distant stars in the background. Raised and intaglio lettering give a well balanced effect.

Two outstanding experts collaborated to create the Apollo-Soyuz Art Medal. Edward R. Grove, painter, engraver and nationally known medallic sculptor created the model for this beautiful medal. Thomas W. Becker, author of "Exploring Tomorrow in Space" contributed his technical space knowledge relating to the design of the Apollo-Soyuz Art Medal.

Apollo-Soyuz Art Medal is available in limited issue. This new medal is a large bold relief medal measuring 2½" in diameter making it an appropriate companion to Presidential Art's Apollo Moon Landing and Skylab series of medals. 10,000 serially numbered Antique finish Silver (+.999 pure) medals are offered at $76.50 each and unnumbered Antique Bronze medals are priced at $10.60 each. This medal is also available in a 1¼" diameter 18K gold medal, limited to only 500 serially numbered pieces at $405.00 each. Prices include postage, insurance and handling. Delivery to begin September 1st.

We urge you to mail your order without delay: The new Apollo-Soyuz Art Medal will surely be one of our most popular issues in recent years and we are anticipating a complete sellout of the serially numbered issues. Once this limited issue is sold out, you'll not have an opportunity to own this beautiful work of art unless a previous purchaser decides to release his collection onto the open market; then you will be obliged to pay whatever price the market will bear.

Examine your medals without risk or obligation for 10 days: Send today for your Apollo-Soyuz Art Medals at no risk. When you receive them, examine them carefully. You'll appreciate the careful finishing and exacting detail. Then and only then, make your decision. If you are not completely satisfied, return the medals in the original condition and your money will be refunded to you.

IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE THAT WE WILL ONCE AGAIN BE CONDUCTING A PUBLIC AND MAIL AUCTION SALE IN CONJUNCTION WITH

THE NEW YORK INTERNATIONAL NUMISMATIC CONVENTION

December 5th and 6th, 1975 in New York City

WE ARE SOLICITING CONSIGNMENTS
FOR INCLUSION IN THIS MAJOR SALE

This convention, which has become the most important show for world coins on the East Coast, consistently attracts the attention and attendance of the major dealers of the world and the major collectors of the world.

Both the convention and the auction associated with it have proven to be a dependable marketplace for buying and selling rare numismatic items.

In our auction at last year's convention many new records were set. Among the notable prices realized were:

CUBA 1916 Twenty Pesos. Catalogs at $8000.00.	Realized	$40,000.00
COLOMBIA 1864 Gold Peso. Catalogs at $125.00.	Realized	$1200.00
DENMARK 1781 Albertus Daler. Catalogs at $175.00.	Realized	$2100.00
GREECE 1876 20 Lepta Patetrn. Catalogs at $150.00.	Realized	$675.00
SPAIN, BURGOS 4 Escudos 1684. Catalogs at $1000.00.	Realized	$3350.00
SPAIN 5 Centimos 1865. Catalogs at $125.00.	Realized	$675.00
SPAIN 1 Real 1854. Catalogs at $125.00.	Realized	$1000.00

. . . not hoked up prices nor flim-flammery; just good, solid prices paid by good, solid buyers.

We are now soliciting consignments of choice world gold, silver, and bronze rarities for inclusion in the 1975 sale, both single specimens and entire collections. If you have such items, and you feel that the time has come to part with them, please contact us.

Your Coins Should Have Been At Pine Tree's Auctions...

They would have received the attention they deserved.

Here's a Look at Some of our Staff

Walter Breen, the recognized Dean of Numismatics is a legend in the hobby. He created the curriculum in Numismatics at Roosevelt University in Chicago. He co-authored Dr. Sheldon's "Penny Whimsy", he formed the Institute of Numismatic Authenticators and served as its first President; for years he wrote the article on Numismatics for the Encyclopedia Britannica; and is now currently serving as the Numismatic Consultant to the Smithsonian Institution.

Mrs. Sylvia Haffner, is an authority on world coinage and specializes in the area of Middle Eastern Numismatics. She is one of the organizers of the Organization of International Numismatics; the Society of International Numismatics; the Numismatic Literary Guild and a life member of the American Numismatic Association. Her research in the field of Israel Numismatics was pioneered and resulted in the first definitive volume written: "The History of Modern Israel's Money".

Donald Taxay. As Tom Haney wrote about him in the New York Times, "When Don Taxay speaks — everyone listens." Mr. Taxay has authored five standard reference works on United States coins in addition to numerous articles and auction catalogues. His book on the detection of counterfeit and altered coins resulted in his being frequently consulted for expert advice by the United States Secret Service. In 1965 he wrote United States Mint and Coinage and received highest praise from Saturday Review. His next book, "An Illustrated History of United States Commemorative Coins", was chosen by the American Library Association as one of the most outstanding textbooks of the year. In 1971 he completed his celebrated "Scott's Comprehensive Catalogue and Encyclopedia of U.S. Coins", the standard reference authority for thousands of advanced collectors and dealers. According to the New York Times, the work "marks the first time any numismatic expert has imparted so much in one volume."

Robert Obojski, noted lecturer and author of many books on numismatics and in particular the incomparable Illustrated Encyclopedia of World Coins.

Another Great Advantage You Have When You Deal With Pine Tree

Pine Tree Auction Company enjoys amongst its clientele the finest, most sophisticated group of collectors and investors in the world.
Our sales efforts reach 150,000 collectors and investors on a monthly basis.
Our catalogues are recognized as the most artistic and informative auction sale catalogues in the industry. Pine Tree is affiliated with First Coinvestors, Inc., a company that pioneered investment in rare coins — allowing Pine Tree to hold successful auctions when other firms might not be able to succeed.

We are also associated with Federal Coin & Currency, Inc. of New York City, a firm that is one of the largest precious metal dealers in the world (sales 1974: $400 million). Our consignors gain the most favorable of terms, which may include liberal cash advances and no expenses spared in the preparation, distribution and conduction of a public auction sale of rare coins and currency.

Please write or call Herb Melnick today so we may discuss the proper disposition of your collection.

OUR AUCTION SUCCESS FORMULA:

A Paramount Auction = Quality Cataloguing + Active Bidding + Top Prices Realized

Every year Paramount conducts some of the largest rare coin auctions in the business. Our reputation for attracting interested buyers to an auction sale is well known as we are invited back to the major conventions on a regular basis. Some of the major sales which we have conducted more than once include:

ANA	1967, 1969, 1972, 1974
NASC	1965, 1967, 1969, 1971, 1973, 1975
Grand Central	1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974
Greater New York	1973, 1974, 1975
And Many Others!

If you have a collection you wish to sell, why not contact our auction department? Traditionally, auctions bring the highest possible overall prices when one disposes of a high quality collection and we offer our consignors a package which is unsurpassed in the rare coin business. Here are just ten reasons why you should consider a Paramount auction when you have rare coins to sell:

1. We print a quality, illustrated catalogue.
2. We offer a protective auction contract.
3. Your coins are fully insured while in our possession.
4. All coins are accurately described by our experienced auction department.
5. All material is well represented.
6. We give special attention to rarities in our catalogues through the use of quality photographs and detailed descriptions.
7. Auction catalogues are sent to one of the largest, active mailing lists in numismatics. Other advertising attracts additional attention to our auctions.
8. We offer very competitive commission rates.
9. When selling at a Paramount auction you will never find any hidden charges. Our commission rates cover everything!
10. After the sale, you will receive a prompt settlement in full.

It will cost you nothing to get all the facts and to find out how convenient we make it for you to sell your rare coins at a Paramount auction. We invite you to write or call (collect) our auction department for complete details. They will be happy to answer any questions you may have concerning the sale of your coins.

After you compare our auction program with the others, we think you too, will choose Paramount!!

CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT!!!! We will advance a percentage of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. Please send inventory first — do not send coins until you hear from us. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement with 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession, they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases, our advance will be almost equal to other offers of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalog mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

BIAFRAN GOLD COINS

WHY THESE COINS ARE UNIQUE FROM A NUMISMATIC, HISTORICAL, ARTISTIC AND INVESTMENT POINT OF VIEW

THERE IS A RIGID LIMIT. Only 3000 sets were ever authorized.
THEY ARE THE LAST AND ONLY BIAFRAN GOLD COINS. In the Republic of Biafra's nearly three years of existence, only these Second Anniversary coins were issued. Since Biafra no longer exists the possibility of further commemorative sets is entirely excluded.
THEY ARE RIGIDLY CONTROLLED Every set itself bears a registry number. This registry number is supported by an official "Certificate of Authenticity" that accompanies each set and which shows the relative number. The certificate also confirms that the coins have been declared legal tender by the cabinet of the Republic of Biafra with an endorsement by the Governor of the Bank of Biafra. The official "Registry of Sets" is controlled by a Swiss auditor.
HIGHEST PROOF QUALITY. These coins are acknowledged to be an outstanding example of perfection in the metal arts. No effort or expense was spared to achieve highest degree of artistic perfection. They are minted with a flawless gleaming mirror finish, made more dramatic by the high relief of the sculpture. Each set contains 4 3/4 ounces of 22 karat gold.
HISTORICAL IMPORTANCE. The pride and courage of the 14,000,000 people who fought for their country for nearly three years is embodied in the nobility of these five coins. During the struggle for independence several countries gave full recognition to the Republic of Biafra, many others lent sympathetic support.

WORLD WIDE BUYING CAMPAIGN

CAN ANY FIRM COMPARE TO THESE FACTS: Colonial Coin, Inc. is one of the largest, most progressive firms in the world with four full time retail stores in Houston, San Antonio, Pasadena, Texas and Denver, Colorado. We also have a full time mail order business (page 12 of Coin World), bi-monthly catalogues, rariety auctions and bourse tables at more than 75 major coin conventions throughout the U.S. and Mexico. We are top buyers at almost every major auction in the World. We are in constant need of coin material. With our established reputation and knowhow, we can market YOUR entire collection to the public. Therefore, we can consume your entire product, whether its U.S. or Foreign, large or small, rare or common. If its collectable, we have a market for it. We handle each transaction in the most professional manner, as we too are collectors and this is the manner we would like our collection handled. Yes, we can trade our bullion gold & silver coins for your collectables. This might be a fantastic tax savings to you. If part of your holdings are bullion, you will receive top market prices for these items as we need them for our bullion department. We pay higher prices because we do not wholesale these items to other companies who deal strictly in bullion.

We have the want lists of most active coin buyers world wide and the reputation to deal with each on the best basis. We are currently trying to spend large sums of money from the strong Doctor's Investment Group. We have several people who are striving to become authorities in their own fields, ie, U.S. Gold, Silver & Copper; Mexican and Latin America; World Bullion Gold, Silver, Etc.; U.S. Paper Money, Broken Banks, Texana, Confederate, European; Ancients; Foreign; Rare Guns, Weapons; Antique Jewelry, Diamonds, Gems, etc. If you are a buyer or potential seller in any of these fields, we feel that our company can be of great help to you. Our people know that we will go to the end of the world to help our clients, so come on aboard.

We have many avid collectors in the following fields. If you have a large collection or just one item, won't you contact us? You will be happy we got together.

All Bullion Gold & Silver
USA Gold Coins, Rare Dates, Proofs, Etc.
USA Silver Coins — Dollars to Half Dimes
USA Copper Coins — Large Cents to Lincoln Bags.
USA Patterns, Territorial, Proofs
USA Paper Money — ALL
USA Colonial Coins
USA Rolls, Bags, Proof Sets
Mexican Rare Date Gold Silver, Copper
Latin American Crowns, Gold Minors
Foreign Paper Moneys
Treasure Coins — Gold & Silver
Gun and Weapon Collections
Doubloons — All Denominations
Gold Watches — Antique Jewelry
Ancient Roman & Greek Gold, Silver & Copper

We will fly to buy with no obligations to you. Our purpose is to promote good business, good feelings, and good relations. Please write us and describe your holdings. We will do the rest and we are happy to buy, bid, or counsel with you on any matter. Please address all correspondence to:

ARE YOU UNABLE TO FIND THE INSURANCE YOU NEED?

That's why ANA sponsors an Exhibitors and Coin Dealers Insurance Plan ... so that you can purchase the insurance you need ... at a price you can afford! The ANA Plan is a group program that provides comprehensive protection against ALL-RISK whether on a business premise, at home or on exhibition. It covers your stock while in transit and while in the custody of others.

This ANA Group Insurance Plan provides:

*Higher limits of coverage while stock is in transit or on exhibition.

*Coverage without requiring any scheduling of inventory.

*Lower cost than similar coverage purchased individually.

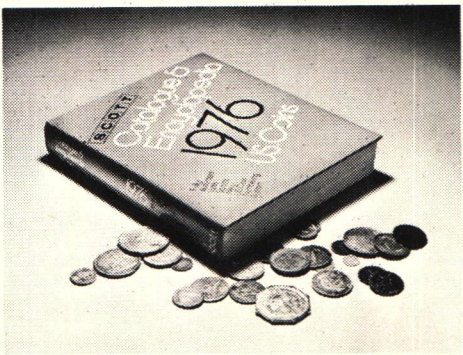
The best U.S. coin book ever struck.

It's Don Taxay's 1971 classic, updated, expanded, reorganized, and made slightly revolutionary by Joseph H. Rose and Howard Hazelcorn.



Here's what the best U.S. coin book ever struck has: It has every U.S. coin ever struck.

Including all the colonials, cabinet coins, essays, territorials, private coins, everything. And with encyclopedic coverage. Everything about everything.

It has twenty five different classes of errors alone, more than any other book.

It has coin prices that are the latest and the most realistic ever compiled. Prices that come from exhaustive research into what's happening at conventions, shows, auctions, and over-the-counter action in stores. (Some of these prices are news.)

It has the first sensible (and badly needed) numbering system U.S. coins have ever had. Every U.S. coin in existence can now be identified by a Scott number instead of, "that copper issued for New Jersey with St. Patrick on it." (Now you can say, "C-328.")

It's the first catalog which prices "Almost Uncirculated" (AU).

Although this is a widely used grade, it's never been listed before.

It has headings on every page that identify coins listed on that page. It has photographs of the coins right in the listings. It has an index and it has a condition guide at the beginning of each section that tells you how to grade your coins. All of which means you can find what ever you want in a hurry.

And at $15 per copy, it'll be the best bargain you ever struck.

SOUND ADVICE IS WORTH THE PRICE

You CAN buy experience! Ours. Now, in our 47th year as professional numismatists, we are helping more and more collectors and dealers, too, with their numismatic problems.

Be it buying or selling, estate planning or taxes, or just plain sound advice, the problems are coming to the "doctor," the professional's professional.

It takes a long time to chalk up 47 years of experience. We have it and you can reap the benefits. It may well be your best numismatic investment.

(There may be slight delays in our responses from June 1 to September 30.)

Fantistic Coin Show! Plan to Attend!

PROFESSIONAL NUMISMATISTS GUILD
— 12th ANNUAL COIN SHOW —
OAK BROOK, ILLINOIS
October 2-4, 1975

COME TO OAK BROOK (a suburb of Chicago). The Professional Numismatists Guild, leading organization of rare coin dealers, is planning a wonderful show to be held soon. This promises to be one of the most interesting, active, and exciting numismatic events of the year. Plan to attend!

WHEN AND WHERE: The 12th Annual P.N.G. SHOW will be held at the Sheraton-Oak Brook Motor Hotel, 1401 West 22nd Street, Oak Brook, Illinois 60521. Oak Brook is a suburb of Chicago and is easily reachable from there; and, is near O'Hare Airfield. The show opening times are:

Thursday, October 2 — 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Friday, October 3 — 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Saturday, October 4 — 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

— ADMISSION IS FREE —

WHO AND WHAT WILL BE THERE: Professional Numismatists Guild Members from all over the United States, Canada and England will be there — dealers with the finest stock and best selections available anywhere — the who's who of professional numismatics. Come and meet your dealer friends and choose from the many wonderful things for sale. A vast selection awaits you!

EVERYTHING IS FOR SALE: Everything the P.N.G. dealers bring to the P.N.G. Show will be for sale. Bring your want list with you — and expect to be able to find many of those elusive pieces you've been seeking. For sale at reasonable prices will be: United States Coins, including colonials, copper, silver and gold issues, commemoratives, tokens, patterns, medals. U.S. Paper money, large and small sizes. Coins of the world — including scarce minor issues, crowns, gold coins of the world, foreign banknotes and paper money. Ancient coins. And just about every other numismatic category you can think of!

GUARANTEED AUTHENTICITY: Each and every coin sold by each and every P.N.G. dealer is guaranteed to be genuine — no "ifs, ands, or buts". This guarantee can save you hundreds or thousands of dollars. When you buy from a P.N.G. dealer you buy from an acknowledged expert, an established professional dealer who has passed the rigorous P.N.G. admission standards and who has pledged himself to observe the P.N.G. Code of Ethics.

RIGHT NOW is the time to make plans to attend the P.N.G. Show in Oak Brook, Illinois. Walk, drive or fly — but be sure to be there! A fantastic array of coins awaits your selection! In addition there will be many educational exhibits of important coins and collections!

PUBLIC AUCTION SALE
UNITED STATES GOLD, SILVER & COPPER COINS
United States Paper Money will be held on
SEPTEMBER 10, 11, 1975

The September Sale contains a group of outstanding consignments which have been carefully blended together to make an important offering of UNITED STATES COINS from the COLONIAL PERIOD to the MODERN DAY, in all metals — Gold, Silver, and Copper; and is further enhanced by a select collection of UNITED STATES PAPER MONEY. Some of the features of this sale are ...

COLONIAL COINS — COPPER COINS

The Colonial Coins number over 100 lots from the Mass. Silver issues through the Washington series. The Half Cents and Large Cents have quite a few rarities, lovely early date specimens, and is highlighted by an unusual pair of 1799 Cents.

SMALL CENTS — SILVER DOLLARS

Though not complete, there are numerous choice examples in all series from the Small Cents through the U. S. Silver Dollars. Many early mint issues are represented and abound with choice and Mint State examples. Included in these series is a 1794 Mint State Half Dime; a lovely 1796 Dime; a 1796 Mint State Quarter; a 1827 Restrike Quarter in Proof; quite a few choice Half Dollars; and a lovely array of Silver Dollars including several Mint State examples from 1795 on.

U. S. GOLD COINS

The gold coins in this sale are for the most part superb. They embrace all denominations from the $1.00 Gold to the $50.00 Gold piece. Among the highlights are an extensive group of Gold Dollars including the 1870's and 1875; over 170 different dates and mints of Quarter Eagles, many of which are outstanding in quality; a select group of choice Three Dollar Gold; an 1879 Flowing Hair STELLA; plus an attractive collection of $5.00, $10.00 and $20.00 gold, including some superb Proof specimens.

U. S. PAPER MONEY

The U. S. Currency to be offered contains only Large Size Notes and is a lovely Type Set of over 100 different varieties, mostly Uncirculated, with many important specimens.

BUY IN HASTE...REPENT AT LEISURE?

When you're about to buy a coin for your collection you should ask yourself several questions.

Do you like the condition of the coin? Is the price right for you? Do you have return privileges and, if so, for how long? Are you buying the coin from the rightful owner? Is it the scarce piece you think it is, or is it actually a less expensive variety? Has the coin been operated on: whizzed, tooled, or even plugged?

Ask yourself these questions. And ask the seller.

Then, ask ANA Certification Service some questions.

Is the coin genuine? Has it been altered? In other words, ask ANACS if you're about to spend your good money on a coin worth no more than the metal in it.

The coin you intend to buy is probably genuine. But if it's not, now is the best time to find out.

While you can exercise your return privilege.

While you can seek a refund on your purchase.

And before you make the same mistake a second time.

So when you buy a coin (1) obtain a receipt from the seller; (2) request a written statement of return privileges; and (3) send the coin immediately to: ANACS, P. O. Box 87, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D. C. 20044 by registered mail.

Even better ... have the seller send the coin to ANACS, and buy the coin contingent upon the seller receiving certification that it is genuine.

Provide your name, address, coin description and value of coin. Enclose return postage and your fee, from the schedule below:

Coin Value	Service Fee	Special ANA Member Service Fee

SEABY

OF LONDON

Yes! We may be based a few miles away across the water but we're pretty mobile. In fact, our experts travel to America five or six times a year to visit clients and buy collections.

We deal in world coins — ancient, medieval and modern. Do you have coins for sale? Being on Europe's doorstep we have many continental contacts and can pay top prices for choice material. Before disposing of your coins too hastily, why not write and let us know what you have?

We purchase coins for CASH. We sell coins on COMMISSION. We catalogue collections for AUCTION either in London or New York. We have a team of experts qualified to make the most of your coins. Drop us a line!

Bert Seaby, Peter Seaby, Laurence Brown, Frank Purvey and others from the Seaby establishment will be travelling around the States this year. You may be on our route or persuade us to make a detour!

Send for a list of our numismatic publications and a copy of our monthly COIN & MEDAL BULLETIN. And if there are coins you are particularly wanting — let us know!

Take advantage of this highly competitive market. Frankly, I urgently need material to replenish my stock and fill want lists for clients. I am not seeking "bargains." My buying records prove I pay top prices for choice material. It will pay you to write me for a quotation whenever you are ready to sell — one piece or a collection.

Douglas Robins, Inc. Is Buying...

If you are considering the sale of your numismatic holdings, whether a rare single item or a large collection, it will benefit you to contact us. We are particularly interested in collections consisting of primarily United States, Canadian or World coins retailing for a minimum of $10 each. We do not purchase coins for wholesale to other dealers, and can therefore offer you a better price for your coins.

Simply send us an itemized listing of your holdings, specifying date, variety, grade, price, and any other data pertinent to the value of your coins. If we feel we can meet your asking price, or if you would rather receive our maximum offer, we will arrange to inspect your holdings.

We need top grade coins and are willing to pay top prices. Our large retail business allows us to generally buy higher and sell lower than most dealers. Do not settle for less.

If You Are Buying....

If you are a serious collector of United States, Canadian, or World Coins, you will be interested in our catalog, "A Collector's Item." We maintain perhaps the finest inventory of choice and rare Canadian coins in existence, as well as a wide selection of desirable United States and World issues, all priced competitively to represent fine values. Request a copy of our catalog. You will receive one with our compliments.

HASTY SELLING VS. QUICK BORROWING

Selling your collection can be profitable if you have enough time to find the best prices. But a collection sold quickly is seldom sold profitably.

In any emergency, borrow the money you need at Edelman's. Use your collection as collateral and still retain complete ownership.

At Edelman's, you can obtain quick confidential loans for any amount up to 80% of the value of your properties — from $50 to $50,000 and more. Take as long as 30 months to pay with a repayment plan tailored to your specific needs. Your collection will be safely protected in Edelman's air-conditioned vaults until you reclaim it. Write today for further information.

T. FOX NEEDS YOUR COINS

and will pay high prices to get them. If you're reading this ad, chances are you have coins to sell. If so, you've come to the right place. We are in desperate need of all numismatic items for both our mail order and our new retail outlet. Our credentials are unquestioned in the coin industry (we've advertised in Coin World for the last dozen years). Our check is the fastest in the East. Just ship your coins (insured or registered) and our offer, in the form of a check, will rocket back to you the same day your package arrives. And we mean the same day (not an annoying 2 or 3 weeks later).

Should you decide not to accept our offer (which seldom happens), we will pay shipping costs both ways. We can use just about anything, from ½ cents to $50 slugs, paper money, foreign coins, from one coin to complete collections or accumulations, in all grades. Be it $20 or $200,000, we're interested. If you feel a personal visit is necessary, one of our representatives will come to you, at your convenience. Please feel free to call us collect anytime, to discuss your holdings. Certified check or cash is always available and all dealings are strictly confidential. Our bank reference is Long Island Trust Co., Garden City Park, N.Y., Walter Cooper, V.P.

When selling, contact T. Fox first you'll be glad you did!

PAYING TOP PRICES

Not Just A Slogan But Guaranteed Results, Supported By These Facts:

1) We are consistently one of the biggest buyers at any major coin convention we attend. The coins that we buy from other dealers have mostly been purchased from collectors. Why not sell to the top buyer.
2) Year after year we have bought more collections from collectors than other dealers on a competitive bid basis. We are not afraid to bid against our competitors, we welcome the opportunity.
3) We have one of the larger mail order businesses in the country and we are constantly in need of good numismatic material. Since we have the customers we can and will pay more.
4) We have never had to pass up a collection because of size. We will not try to buy your collection and then pay you for it as we sell it.
5) We spent over 100 days traveling last year to buy coins. Few can match this record. If you have a collection for sale we would appreciate having an opportunity to show you how much we can pay.

To Sell Your Coins You Have The Following Options Available:

1. You may ship your coins to us with the prices wanted.
2. You may ship your coins for our offer. We will contact you immediately with our offer.
3. Large collections we will travel to see.

HOW TO SELL COINS BY MAIL

By G. A. Heath

WHAT THIS PUBLICATION CONTAINS

The basics of how to sell coins by mail, capital required, equipment and supplies, the advertisement, its purpose, where and when to advertise.

Pricing of coins, mail order auction bids, timing of the ads. Production of coin lists, the covering letter, the inventory, filling orders, the standards, your reputation, educational lists.

The trader, what to do about them, conversion to cash sales, the trading list.

Your sales sheet, the layout, order forms, postal regulations, types of postal service, shipping, buying coins, credit slips, your library, cleaning coins, coin dips, sources for wholesale coins, that second career.

These and many more MONEY MAKING facts in your copy of "HOW TO SELL COINS BY MAIL". The $10.00 you spend on this will be returned many times over in coins sold for CASH. Actual copies of sales sheets. Ads that have produced over the years. The author has been selling coins by mail for the past 10 years. $10.00 Postpaid first class mail with assorted Canadian commemorative stamps.

SPECIAL GUARANTEE: If you can show us a better manual on selling coins by mail, your money cheerfully refunded.

NEW 1975 EDITION

SWANN COIN CABINETS

Swann COIN CABINETS house some of the finest collections in Europe, including many museums and the entire Royal Mint coin collection in London.

An exquisite mahogany cabinet is now available to collectors in the U.S.A. It is 7½" high, 10⅛" wide and 9½" deep. The figured mahogany panelled door hinges at the base and is fitted with a brass lock.

The 13 sliding mahogany trays have rosewood fronts and 3/16" deep, felt lined circular recesses.

They are made to hold:

A	30 coins of	1⅛" diameter
B	20 coins of	1⅜" diameter
C	12 coins of	1¾" diameter
D	6 coins of	2½" diameter

Any combination of trays A to D can be supplied to a total of 13.

The inclusive price delivered by air to the U.S.A. is $250.00. Orders should be sent direct to the makers in northern England:

H. S. SWANN,
Bernard House,
Heddon-on-the-Wall,
Newcastle upon
Tyne, NE15 OBG.

Other larger cabinets holding between 400 and 6000 coins are made to special order, including cabinets to fit safes.
